WATER BELL SCHEME IN KERALA'S SCHOOLS TO KEEP KIDS HYDRATED

As temperatures begin to soar, the Kerala govt on Monday directed schools to ring the bell twice a day so as to remind students to consume water. Education minister V Sivankutty asked schools to ring the bell at 10.30 am and 2.30 pm as a remainder to students to take water. He advised students to drink water even if they did not feel thirsty. Consuming enough water is the only way to fight adverse impacts of heat, the minister said. He ordered schools to make arrangement for supply of clean drinking water

Farmers reject offer, set to resume protest

Centre had suggested guaranteed MSP regime for five crops for five years

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

FARMER leaders on Monday rejected the Centre's offer of a guaranteed minimum support price for five crops for five years, stating they wanted the mechanism to apply for all 23 crops and not a piecemeal deal.

They also announced the resumption of their 'Dilli Chalo' march from both the Shambhu and Khanauri inter-state Punjab-Haryana borders on Wednesday peacefully.

The Centre made the proposal during the fourth round of talks it had with the protesting farmers on Sunday night. The guarantees would come from three Central cooperatives — the Cotton Corporation of India (CCI), National Cooperative Consumers' Federation of India (NCCF) and National Agricultural Cooperative Marketing Federation of India (NAFED) — and not from the government direct.

After the meeting, Union minister for food, commerce and consumer affairs Piyush Goyal said, "we had positive talks and have proposed a very innovative, out-of-the-box idea. The crops which the government has proposed to buy on assured MSP are tur, urad, masoor, cotton and maize." Apart from Goyal, ministers Arjun Munda and Nityanand Rai participated in the talks.

Hours later, Sarwan Singh Pandher, general secretary of the Kisan Mazdoor Sangharsh Committee and Jagjit Singh Dallewal, president of Bharatiya Kisan Union (Ekta Sidhupur) said, "We reject the proposal as it is not in the favour of farmers."

Briefing the media after the talks, Goyal said, "We have proposed that the CCI, NCCF and NAFED enter into a legal contract with farmers who grow tur, urad, masoor, cotton and maize for buying their crops at MSP for next five years. There will be no limit on the quantity purchased and a portal will be developed for this."

SC to examine ballot papers of Chandigarh Mayor poll today

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday slammed Anil Masih, the returning officer (RO) of the January 30 Chandigarh mayoral polls, for "defacing ballot papers" and sought the ballots and the video recording of the counting for the court's perusal. The bench comprising Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud and Justices JB Pardiwala and Manoj Misra said it may consider declaration of results on the basis votes already cast instead of ordering fresh polls.

The BJP won the polls after defeating the AAP-Congress alliance candidate after the RO declared eight votes of the latter as invalid. BJP's Manoj Sonkar was declared winner after polling 16 votes against 12 polled by AAP's Kuldeep Kumar. Sonkar later resigned while three AAP councillors defected to the BJP.

"We are deeply concerned about the horse-trading," the bench remarked, and fixed the matter for further hearing on Tuesday at 2 pm.

The apex court said the RO must be prosecuted for interfering in elections and directed him to be present in the court on Tuesday as well.

Masih denied the charges that he tampered with the ballots saying he only put his mark on some ballots that were already defaced so as to distinguish them from valid ones. However, the bench was not convinced by this argument.

The SC directed the registrar general of the Punjab and Haryana High Court to depute a judicial officer to bring the records safely to New Delhi and present them before it on Tuesday.

Court grills returning officer

The SC on Monday posed hard questions to Returning Officer Anil Masih, while warning him of prosecution if he resorted to falsehood. "Why were you looking into the camera and putting the 'X' mark on the ballot papers?" the court asked, adding tampering ballots can't be allowed in an electoral democracy

House okays Bill for more govt nominees in co-ops

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Legislative Assembly on Monday passed The Karnataka Co-operative Societies (amendment) Bill, 2024, to increase the government's nomination to three on boards of higher cooperative bodies, including the state's apex bank, by ensuring reservation to SC/ST communities, women and a person from the general category as directors. The number of board of directors of the apex bank, which is now 22, will go up to 25 and the government may have an upper hand in decision-making.

Some BJP legislators opposed the Bill, accusing the government of bringing the cooperative sector under its clutches. But Cooperation Minister Kyathasandra N Rajanna eventually got the bill passed promising that certain "loopholes", if any, will be rectified. BJP MLAs expressed concern over giving voting power to nominated directors in the elections.

Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister HK Patil suggested certain changes, keeping in view the long-term impact on the sector. As per the Bill, one each seat for members of either SC or ST, for women and for other categories will be reserved with an intention to ensure social justice and opportunity to the deprived and unrepresented sections of society in the cooperative movement. The sub-section (4B) of Section 28-A of Karnataka Co-operative Societies Act, 1959, provides for nomination by the state government as its representative on the board of every assisted society other than the board of the primary agricultural credit cooperative society.

Guessing game over, Nath to stay in Cong

ANURAAG SINGH @Bhopal

ENDING speculation of whether or not Congress veteran Kamal Nath and his son Nakul would leave the party and join the BJP, Nath loyalist and former state minister Sajjan Singh Verma on Monday said both would stay in the grand old party. "Nakul Nath will contest the Lok Sabha polls as Congress candidate," Sajjan told reporters outside Kamal Nath's residence in New Delhi, adding that the veteran leader had authorised him to brief the media.

Kamal Nath on Monday had a meeting with Congress leaders from Madhya Pradesh for about an hour-and-a-half over the forthcoming Lok Sabha polls and Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Nyay Yatra, which comes to the state on February 22, Sajjan said. After the yatra leaves the state, Nath will start touring the state for the Lok Sabha polls, he added.

In a related development, the Congress called a meeting of its MLAs and MPs in Bhopal to discuss the preparations for the yatra. Kamal Nath is likely to participate in those meetings, said Jitendra Singh, Congress general secretary in charge-of Madhya Pradesh.

BJP spokesperson Narendra Saluja wrote on X, "Nath Sahab has managed to blackmail his party high command with a host of conditions, including his increased say in MP Congress, making him the party's face again in MP, include him in central party's committees."

Speculation on how the rumour began

Congress and BJP circles are trying to figure out the origin of the speculation on the wily leader's bolting from the grand old party and his quick reconciliation. The state party leadership went into panic mode over the last two days over the father-son's possible exit and switching to the BJP

No stocks of 190 essential medicines in state: Rao

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

HEALTH Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao on Monday said that the state has no stocks of 190 of the 410 essential medicines for supply to government hospitals. "We need to purchase 732 medicines and supply them to hospitals. Of them, 410 are essential medicines, and the rest are optional. We have no stocks of 190 essential medicines. That is the reality and we are not hiding anything," the minister said in the Legislative Council.

Replying to MLC HS Gopinath's question on the hardships caused to poor patients due to non-availability of essential medicines in government hospitals, the minister admitted that there are many shortcomings in the department. Steps are being taken to streamline the whole system.

He said efforts are on to supply all medicines to hospitals by the first week of April. Tenders have been invited for the purpose.

Stating that his department cannot escape from its responsibility of providing medicines to poor patients, he said directions have been issued to hospitals to purchase medicines from funds available with them."They are purchasing medicines locally. But the process lacks transparency," he said.

Can't regularise all bagair hukum land: Byre Gowda

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

REVENUE Minister Krishna Byre Gowda said on Monday that over 9.85 lakh applicants have sought regularisation of cultivation on 54 lakh acres of government land under the bagair hukum scheme.

"The state government cannot regularise Bagair hukum cultivation on such large tracts of land. A large number of people are trying to misuse this scheme for regularisation of government land being cultivated by them illegally," he said in the Legislative Assembly.

"The scheme is meant for the landless poor. We have formed 138 Bagair hukum regularisation committees to dispose of applications. The committees in some taluks are yet to be formed. I have asked district ministers to form committees at taluk levels soon," he said.

Byre Gowda said the verification process is on and many applications have been found to be bogus. "An individual has applied for regularisation of land being cultivated at 25 places. In some cases, false age certificates have been submitted. Applications of ineligible people will be rejected," he added.

When some MLAs stated that many eligible applications have been rejected, he said they will be re-examined. "I have instructed revenue officials not to approve the applications of ineligible people. The applications rejected due to misinterpretation of rules will be reconsidered," he said.

Young Odisha hockey international Jyoti fights to save her house

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Rourkela

ON Sunday night, after India's match against the US at the Birsa Munda Hockey Stadium in the city, Jyoti Chhetri scanned the capacity crowd for a glimpse of her parents. Once she had spotted them, she smiled. At some level, the Chhetri story couldn't be any more romantic. She was born inside the city's main sports hostel at Panposh. That hostel's meat and drink is in ensuring kids who take up a hockey stick graduate summa-cum-laude (Dilip Tirkey, Prabodh Tirkey, Lazarus Birla and, recently, Amit Rohidas to name a few). She fell in love with the game. Now, the 20-year-old, already a World Cup silver-medallist in the inaugural Hockey 5s event last month, is strutting her stuff at the Stadium that's about 10 minutes away by walk.

Chhetri's smiles, however, hides a grave problem her family faces in the immediate future: the genuine danger of being asked to vacate their home by the government. Soon after she was born in 2003, Bhim Singh, Jyoti's father, moved out of the small hostel (he was working as a watchman when his daughter was born) quarters to a vacant piece of land right outside the hostel.

On that land, he built a small dwelling for five, including his wife and three children. A few years ago, local authorities knocked on their door to inform them about an upcoming road-widening project as part of a new bridge. On Sunday morning, hours before his daughter prepared to play the US, Bhim recounted his plight to a few journalists. The family has no problems in giving up their house but they haven't been promised any alternate accommodation either even though they have informed several authorities about the current situation.

After the match against the US, which India won 2-1 in the shootout, Jyoti was also intimate with the story. "They (government) assured me that they will do something but nothing has happened till now," she said. For his part, Jyoti's father has already turned towards God for salvation. "We will see what happens, we are at God's mercy. Wherever he takes us." P17

BWSSB ready to supply water in tankers to parched areas

Measure owing to borewells drying due to sparse rainfall; Board to repair faulty borewells

MOHAMMED YACOOB
@ Bengaluru

WITH several localities like Bommanahalli and parts of Mahadevapura witnessing water shortage owing to borewells going dry, officials of Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) say the board is ready with 86 tankers to supply water to those parched areas around the city which do not get Cauvery water. This includes 51 of the 110 villages notified by BWSSB that come under Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) limits.

"There is enough water in KRS and Kabini dams to cater to the drinking water needs of the city till June. Bengaluru needs 1.6 tmcft of drinking water each month. BWSSB will ensure the supply of Cauvery water to all the residents falling under its jurisdiction, especially the 51 villages under BBMP limits. If there are issues, tankers will be utilised. Each tanker can supply 6,000 litres of water. This apart, BWSSB also has formed a team to service and repair the borewells under its jurisdiction to ensure that the residents are not inconvenienced during the summer months," BWSSB Engineer-In-Chief B Suresh said.

Water expert AR Shivakumar said Bengaluru faced a shortage of 50% rain last season. "The below-average rainfall last year is the reason why groundwater infiltration has taken a hit. Also, open spaces are being concretised. To recharge the borewells, accelerated infiltration like wells and small ponds will have to be constructed," he opined.

Water expert Vishwanath Shrikantaiah said that there is also an option to recharge borewells near storm-water drains, valleys, and lakes where the board has set up tertiary water treatment plants.

"Vrishabhavathi Valley has a sewage treatment plant (STP) that treats 150 MLD of sewage. Similarly, in Jakkur Lake there is a tertiary water treatment plant. The borewells from the surrounding areas can be used to supply water to the affected areas," he said.

WHAT YOU CAN DO TO TIDE OVER WATER CRISIS
- Reuse water- utilize used laundry water to flush toilets
- Water used in the kitchen can be used to water plants
- Use wet cloth to wipe vehicles clean
- Fix an aerator at tap-end to avoid wastage of water

K'TAKA BUDGET 2024-25 DECODED

Man-animal conflict: ₹10 cr for modernisation of all task forces

SUBHASH CHANDRA N S
@ Karwar

THE state government has announced the release of Rs 10 crore for modernisation of all task forces set up for preventing human-animal conflict. The government has also earmarked a sum of Rs 15 crore for grassland tourism in Bidar.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, while presenting the State Budget on February 16, said that 78 km of railway line has been barricaded at a cost of Rs 100 crore so far to prevent elephants from straying into human habitats. The barricading of the lines will continue further, he said.

"A sum of Rs 40 crore has been spent on constituting seven elephant task forces and two leopard task forces so far. Another task force will be constituted at Bandipur this year and Rs 10 crore will be allocated to strengthen it with man power and latest technology. For mitigation of man-animal conflict, a sum of Rs 201 crore has been spent. This has been done to protect crops and lives of people living on the periphery of the forests," he said.

The CM pointed out that as part of Green Karnataka initiative, 2.74 lakh saplings have been planted on 50,225 hectares of land. "This includes road dividers and medians, tree parks and sacred groves," said Siddaramaiah in his 15th budget presentation.

In a lengthy speech which lasted for more than three hours, the CM also announced starting eco-tourism in grasslands at Honnikeri reserve and bio-diversity site known for its black bucks and chinkaras in the state. The budget also announced the setting up of two laboratories and seven investigation centres to check test water quality of 17 rivers in the state.

Siddaramaiah also said that recycling and reuse of water in buildings will be encouraged in apartments in Bengaluru.

Oppn demands survey of unauthorised warehouses

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Opposition party has called upon the State government to conduct a comprehensive survey of illegal warehouses and industries proliferating on the outskirts of the city.

Referring to the fire incident that claimed three lives, Leader of Opposition R Ashoka highlighted the prevalence of similar unauthorized establishments engaged in manufacturing medicines, perfumes or other items. "You can generate revenue as well" he said. Ashoka blamed the officials for not monitoring and emphasized the need to rein in these illicit establishments.

Yeshwanthpur MLA ST Somashekar raised the issue of the fire mishap at a perfume unit in Bengaluru during zero hour and urged the State government to provide compensation to the victims' families and cover the medical expenses of those injured.

Responding on behalf of the State government, Revenue Minister Krishna Byregowda expressed deep concern over the five fire mishaps that occurred in Bengaluru in the past seven months, where many lives were lost. He observed that such incidents are happening where regulations are being violated, with officials failing to take appropriate actions. He also underscored the need to establish more fire stations in Bengaluru, and as head of State disaster Management, he promised to allocate funds to buy more fire extinguisher vans.

BBMP chief must take action on additional property tax payment: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

POINTING at several property owners approaching the High Court against the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) order insisting on payment of 50 per cent of additional property tax at the time of replying to the demand notice, which is contrary to law, Justice S Sunil Dutt Yadav on Monday asked the BBMP chief commissioner to take appropriate action.

The court passed the interim order after hearing a petition filed by Gopalan Enterprises. The petitioner contended that the insistence on payment of 50 per cent even to consider its reply is untenable in light of the provision made in the statute under Section 179 read with 148 (3) of the BBMP Act, 2020.

The court told the BBMP chief commissioner to take note of BBMP's insistence.

The petitioner contended that, since the stage of filing the appeal has still not arisen, insistence on depositing 50 per cent cannot stand legal scrutiny.

The court said prima facie, the deposit of 50 percent even while considering a reply cannot be accepted. The BBMP communication issued to the petitioner on the payment of tax arrears of Rs 19 crore from 2008-09 to 2022-23, are stayed, it noted.

BMTC boosts insurance coverage to ₹1 cr for employee dependents

Bengaluru: In a significant step towards ensuring the financial security of its employees' dependents, the Bengaluru Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) has raised its insurance coverage to ₹1 crore. Initially, BMTC had an agreement to provide ₹30 lakh in insurance compensation to the families of employees who lost their lives in road accidents. To expand this coverage, agreements were renegotiated with several other banks offering varying amounts of insurance compensation following an employee's demise. Moreover, recognizing the challenges faced by dependent families in cases of non-accidental deaths, such as those resulting from illnesses, BMTC has increased the departmental group insurance sum from ₹3 lakh to ₹10 lakh.

PETER VIDAL

20TH February : Pluto is invisible to the naked eye but, were you able to see it, you'd notice that it is in a powerful relationship with romantic Venus. Now, Pluto is the planet of all unconscious and secret things and Venus is the symbol of love. What can this mean? I'll tell you later!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The Moon is forcing you to face up to social responsibilities and turn your attention to what you can do for the good of all. Your goal today should be to reform all personal contacts. You may cut out self-interest, and eliminate stale old habits and responses as well.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You're much too smart to be taken in and there is no point in telling you that everything in the garden is rosy. However, I am duty bound to point out that the majority of the planets are harmoniously aligned and therefore that any complaints or grumbles are likely to be exaggerated!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Personally and emotionally this could be quite a complex and challenging time, but not, it must be stressed, because your planets are in a sensitive mood. Everything arises from the plain fact that you're not quite sure what you want at home.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Financial arrangements should now be completed and your course for the coming period may be set. Remember that your next twelve months should be relatively prosperous, so don't let doubts creep in now. What you have to do first is break out of the patterns which have lost you money in the past.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
It's a day for business, but not for major long-term decisions. Your judgment is bound to suffer, so don't be taken in by amazing offers or wonderful promises - they'll probably fail to materialise. On the other hand, every idea needs to be considered because you can't yet say which one is going to yield dividends, including emotional ones.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
There is a slight tendency to get carried away and ignore all those obvious pitfalls. Over the next few days your judgment will deteriorate. Artistic and romantic Virgos will benefit, but if you've detailed matters to consider, take care - very great care indeed.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Most of your problems at the moment seem to emanate from feeling slightly restricted. Yet you'll probably find it difficult to put your finger on what exactly is happening, and to whom. It all depends on your personal situation, so don't judge other people too harshly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
This is definitely not an ideal time to try to arrange discussions or meetings. By the beginning of next week, though, you'll discover that other people are more sympathetic to your aims, even if they do still fail to comprehend the real inner you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Changes at home are a distinct possibility. However, if by any chance you are dreaming of a move or similar substantial improvements, the indications are complex, and driven by regrets and resentment over what happened in the past. In this case you must rely on yourself.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You find it so easy to confuse the wood with the trees that you may leave yourself in an awful muddle. Do continue to take extra care when travelling, and be sure to let others know what you're up to. The fact is, you like to be liked and you'll never forgive yourself if you think you've let a special person down.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Financial affairs are about to get more intense, not less, so I doubt if you've anything to gain from ignoring a problem in the hope that it will go away. A friend, possibly female, is about to come to your aid, but the funny thing is that you might not find out about it for another three or four weeks.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
No doubt you would prefer to do things in a direct and open manner. Yet with Mercury in such an intriguing situation, this kind of ambition seems to be a long way off. Until you are sure of your ground, stick to what you know. Sometimes it seems as if you can make something happen just by dreaming about it. Not true, I'm afraid!

3 more held in PSI recruitment scam

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CONTINUING its investigation into the police sub-inspector (PSI) recruitment scam, sleuths attached to the Criminal Investigation Department (CID) have made three more arrests, including two government officials. With this, the number of arrests has touched 113.

The sleuths attached to the Financial Intelligence Unit of the CID have arrested the three for allegedly colluding with the prime accused RD Patil. The accused trio used to find out the key answers by sitting in Patil's farmhouse. The key answers were shared with Patil who would then send them to his candidates using Bluetooth devices.

The case against the accused was registered at Ashoknagar police station in Kalaburagi in October 2021.

The accused have been identified as Chandrakant Thippanna Pyati, first division assistant of Shahabad community health centre, Basavaraj Siddaramappa Jamadar, Hostel Superintendent of Backward Classes Department's pre-metric hostel in Afzalpur, and Shashidhar Shivasharanappa Jamadaar, a BCom student from Hirapura in Kalaburagi district. Pyati is from Afzalpur in Kalaburagi and Jamadar is from Karekanahalli.

All three accused were absconding for more than two years. The accused who were produced before a local court in Kalaburagi have been remanded in judicial custody.

The role of the three arrested is to find out the key answers to the PSI exam question papers. They were sitting at Patil's farmhouse in Sonna village of Afzalpur taluk. They were finding out the answers on the Internet and were informing Patil who used to help his candidates with the key answers using Bluetooth devices. Of the two accused, Chandrakant and Basavaraj are alleged to have helped two candidates using Bluetooth devices.

It may be recalled that one ADGP rank officer, a few police officers, including two DySPs, government employees, and some candidates who managed to get selected in the exam through illegal means have been arrested.

High on drugs, two women techies from B'luru assault cop in Gokarna

SUBHASH CHANDRA N S
@ Gokarna (Uttara Kannada)

THE Gokarna police have arrested two software developers from Bengaluru on charges of assaulting police personnel under the influence of drugs. Of the two arrested women, one is from Bihar and the other from Jharkhand. They were driving in a haphazard manner, and almost hit a woman police constable who was standing near Mahabaleshwara Temple, with their rented vehicle.

The women have been identified as Pallavi Priya 29, from Jamalpur at Munger in Bihar and Priya Roy, 26, a native of Beramo, Bokaro in Jharkhand.

The policemen saw them driving a rented vehicle in a haphazard manner and intercepted them. According to the eyewitnesses here, the women started abusing the constable in foul language and assaulting her. The people who gathered at the spot managed to rescue the constable and took the women to the police station.

The women repeated their act again in the police station when another police official came to interrogate them. The police then took them for a medical test which revealed that they were under the influence of ganja.

A complaint was lodged and the duo was arrested and produced before a court. They have now been sent to judicial custody. Further investigation is on. Incidents of confiscation of drugs and arrest of people in possession of drugs and illegal parties are on the rise in the holy town of Gokarna.

A senior police officer said this is the first time women have been arrested for drug consumption and creating ruckus in Gokarna.

3 held for raping 3 minor girls in Raibag on V-Day

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

THREE minor girls were allegedly sexually assaulted by three persons in Raibag on Valentine's Day (February 14), according to delayed reports received here. The accused have been identified as 'Addhuri' alias Halappa Suresh Babaleshwar, Halappa Giddavvagol and Gopal Gadiwaddar, all residents of a village in Raibag taluk.

According to a complaint registered at the Raibag police station, the accused followed the girls, who were on their way to a temple, in a car. Near the temple, the accused bundled the girls into their car and took them to a garden near Mugalkhod village and allegedly raped them. Later, they let the victims go near the temple and threatened to kill them if they informed the police or their parents. After the accused left the spot, the victims went to the police station and filed the complaint. Raibag police, who registered an FIR, swung into action and arrested the accused. Meanwhile, police sources said that the three girls knew the accused persons, who took them to the garden near Mugalkhod village in their car and allegedly raped them.

A case under the POCSO Act has also been registered against the accused.

Woman: Actor promised movie roles, cheated me

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Benglauru

A 27-year-old beautician has filed a complaint with the Jnanabharathi police against an actor for cheating her in the guise of making her a heroine.

The actor has been identified Santhosh who has acted in a few Kannada and Tamil movies. The woman, a resident of Ullal main road, has also accused Santhosh of sexually abusing her under false promise of marriage. He is alleged to have been blackmailing her with private photographs and videos. The woman approached the police after finding out that he has been married.

The complainant, a native of Raichur works as a beautician at a salon in Basaveshwaranagar.

According to the complainant, she met Santhosh in 2019 who promised to make her a heroine. Through false assurances, he became close to her. He is alleged to have taken her to different lodges in the city and developed a physical relationship. Santhosh is accused of recording their private and intimate moments on his mobile phone. The complainant further stated that she stayed away from him after three years as he did not get her any movie roles.

On February 14, the accused is said to have gone to her house in Jnanabharathi and manhandled her for avoiding him. He threatened to upload her pictures and videos on social media if she did not meet him regularly. After the attack, the victim is said to have obtained treatment and approached the police.

"In June last year, the victim had filed the complaint against the accused. The case was transferred to Bengaluru rural limits since the incident happened there. The victim filed another complaint on February 15. The case is under investigation," S Girish, DCP (West) said.

GOVT, BJP SPAR OVER CHANGING SLOGAN AT CLASSROOM ENTRY

Says an insult to Kuvempu; Oppn members create din in both Houses of legislature

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Social Welfare Department's decision to replace the wording at the entrance of classrooms in its schools from "This is the temple of knowledge, come with folded hands" to "This is the temple of knowledge ask without fear" resulted in ruckus in both Houses of the legislature on Monday.

Opposition BJP legislators in the Assembly and Council slammed the department for making the change. In the Council, MLCs protested in the well, demanding a detailed statement from the minister.

BJP state president and party MLA BY Vijayendra and MLC N Ravi Kumar took up the issue in the Assembly and Council, respectively, during the zero hour. Vijayendra said the Social Welfare Department principal secretary has issued directions to change the wording at the entrance of residential schools run by the department.

"With this, the government has insulted Rashtrakavi Kuvempu," Vijayendra said.

An irked Krishna Byregowda, revenue minister, said the Congress government does not need BJP for lessons on respecting Kuvempu. "It is you (BJP) who removed Kuvempu's chapter from the textbook. Why do you bring politics here," he questioned.

Leader of Opposition R Ashoka said Vidhana Soudha carries a slogan, "Sarakari Kelsa Devara Kelasa". "Will that also be removed? Who is he (the officer) to change the wording at the residential schools and who has given him the power," Ashoka asked.

BJP members protested in the well in the Council when they were not allowed to discuss the issue during the zero hour. They were asked to take it up for discussion under a different provision after following the due process and Council opposition leader Kota Srinivas Poojary's request was turned down. At one point, BJP and Congress MLCs were raising slogans against each other. The House was adjourned after the din.

EDU DEPT TO LOOK INTO UNIFORM GRADING SYSTEM IN VARSITIES

Higher Education Minister Dr MC Sudhakar said a committee constituted by the department suggested changes in the system of grading in universities. The committee was constituted after a boy studying at a university died by suicide. The minister informed the Council that they will get a report from the Higher Education Council and see how they can bring in a uniform system in all universities. He was responding to MLC Manjunath Bhandari's question on huge variations in marks given by different universities and the need to bring in a uniform system. ENS

DKS, YATNAL IN WAR OF WORDS OVER 40% COMMISSION

The Assembly witnessed a verbal altercation between Deputy Chief Minister D K Shivakumar and senior BJP MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal over contractors' association president D Kempanna's allegation of 40% commission. "The government is not paying outstanding bills to contractors. Earlier, Kempanna had said that there is '40% commission' in the current government. But it is a pity that he kept quiet and I don't know whether he was fed with honey or jaggery," Yatnal alleged. Shivakumar responded by recalling that Yatnal had alleged irregularities in the previous BJP government during the Covid-19 pandemic, and suggested that he speak out on the matter. This lead to a war of words between the duo with each addressing the other in the singular. ENS

TACKLE WATER CRISIS, DRILL NEW BOREWELLS: ASHOKA

Leader of Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka has demanded that the state government allow drilling of new borewells as the existing ones have gone dry. "We still have four months left for the monsoon and we are already facing a drinking water crisis now," he told the Assembly. Ashoka said it's not just people, even animals are facing a lack of water in Karnataka. With no rain, the state is facing a drought situation and underground water has depleted drastically. "At some places, borewells are not able to pump water from even at a dept of 1,000 ft. People are forced to depend on private water tankers," he said. Ashoka also pointed out that many experts have flagged the water crisis. "Reservoirs in the state have reached rock bottom, water is also getting evaporated and in the coming days the situation is likely to turn from bad to worse as monsoon is some four months away," he said. The government should allow drilling of borewells in new locations. "The government should also provide Rs 10 lakh to each gram panchayat to resolve the issue," he said. ENS

'Will put in place procurement system for meds'

KARNATAKA State Medical Supplies Corporation Ltd (KSMSCL), which supplies medicines to hospitals, should be strengthened. "Providing medicines to poor patients is our primary responsibility and we have failed in our primary responsibility," the minister said.

Stating that the condition of the corporation is pathetic, the minister said no managing director has worked there for more than three months. "We will fix it. Efforts are on to put in place a proper procurement system and tenders will be called once in two years," he added.

Gundu Rao said KPMG has been asked to suggest measures to improve the functioning of the corporation and it has given a preliminary report.

The department is also working with the Centre for Development of Advanced Computing (C-DAC) to have a maintenance management system. "You may be surprised to know that we do have information on all equipment and if they are in working condition. C-DAC will come up with a new system," he said.

The aim is to ensure that there should not be pharmacies in taluk or district hospitals, he said."People coming to hospitals should get all medicines free of cost. We should not even have PM Jan Aushadhi Kendras in our hospitals," he said, adding that the increasing number of pharmacies near the hospitals shows the government's failure.

Tata firms sign MoU to invest ₹2,300 cr in state

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE state government and Tata Group companies — Air India and Tata Advanced Systems Limited (TASL) — entered into a memorandum of understanding on Monday for an investment of Rs 2,300 crore. The agreement is estimated to create about 1,650 direct and over 25,000 indirect employment in the state.

It was signed in the presence of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Large and Medium Industries Minister M B Patil. As per the MoU, Air India will establish Maintenance, Repair and Overhaul (MRO) facilities at Kempegowda International Airport operated by the Bangalore International Airport Ltd, starting with airframe maintenance through the development of wide-body and narrow-body hangars for all checks, including heavy structural checks. The initiative will help develop the broader MRO ecosystem in India and is expected to generate over 1,200 highly skilled employment opportunities in the state.

"Air India plans to enhance its connectivity over Bengaluru. This initiative is a step towards deeper presence of Air India group in Bengaluru and will entail scaling its direct connectivity to various global destinations on one end and aggregating traffic from Southern India," a release stated.

The investment by TASL will be directed towards various endeavours, including implementing an Aircraft Modification, Conversion, Completion and Maintenance, Repair and Overhaul (MRO) facility for defence purposes, setting up an indigenous gun manufacturing including a barrel manufacturing facility and implementing R&D in the aerospace and defence (A&D) sector. These ventures are expected to generate over 450 employment opportunities in the state.

Stating that both these initiatives are first-of-its-kind in the country, Minister Patil said it will further strengthen the A&D ecosystem of Karnataka. He said such projects require streamlined support from the government in terms of clearances, approvals and interventions, and promised support in resolving any challenges pertaining to the grounding of the projects.

S Selvakumar, Principal Secretary, Industries Department; Nipun Aggrawal, Chief Commercial & Transformation Officer, Air India, and Sukaran Singh, CEO & MD, TASL, were present.

BJP MLAs: Why no minority devpt funds for us?

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE opposition BJP created a ruckus in the Assembly over allotment of funds for development of minority colonies. The party members alleged that the state government allotted funds to develop minority colonies only in constituencies represented by Congress MLAs and not to others.

Raising the issue during question hour, BJP MLA BY Vijayendra said the government has been discriminating even in minority welfare. "Money has been allotted to constituencies of Congress MLAs to develop minority colonies. Why was this not done for all?" he said and added that the government is keen on releasing funds for minorities, but not to farmers who are in distress due to drought.

In response, Minorities Welfare Minister Zameer Ahmed Khan said Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has announced an action plan of Rs 1,000 crore for the next three years for minorities. As part of this, around Rs 300 crore has been allotted. "The CM presented a budget of Rs 3.71 lakh crore, which is less than 1% for minorities," he said. He also mentioned that minority colonies have been categorised based on population.

Vijayapura MLA Basanagouda Yatnal objected to this. "My constituency has a population of 1.2 lakh. I have not got any fund," he said.

Irked by this, Zameer pointed out that Yatnal had earlier stated that he will not get work done for burqa clad women. "Why should I give money when you won't work for them? You will not spend on them," he said.

Following this, BJP members created a ruckus over Zameer's statement.

THE other Congress leaders accused in the case are ministers Ramalinga Reddy and MB Patil and AICC general secretary in-charge of Karnataka Randeep Singh Surjewala.

Dr Singhvi argued that the criminal case was registered against his client for exercising his right to protest and it is totally against the right to freedom of speech and expression under Article 19(1).

After hearing this, Justice Mishra pointed out that the offences, which have been invoked in the case, have been kept in the statute books keeping in view the reasonable restrictions under the fundamental rights.

Justice Mishra wanted to know from Siddaramaiah whether permission had been sought for the protest march. To this, Sibal replied that law and order cannot be a ground to deny a fundamental right. "I have a constitutional right, a fundamental right," he said.

The High Court of Karnataka, in its order issued on February 6, dismissed the CM's plea to quash the criminal proceedings and also slapped a cost of Rs 10,000, forcing him to approach the Supreme Court for relief. The CM appealed before the SC on February 14, seeking its direction to quash the criminal proceedings initiated against him and other Congress leaders for organising the protest march in Bengaluru.

Siddaramaiah said the protest march was organised to seek the resignation of the then minister KS Eshwarappa, holding him responsible for the death of a civil contractor.

Siddaramaiah, in his appeal, stated that none of the ingredients of the offences alleged were made out against him. The present proceedings against him are nothing but an abuse of the process of law and would lead to undue harassment, on the basis of vague allegations, he claimed.

'Bill will have adverse impact on co-op sector'

IT is also proposed to amend Section 39AA to abolish the Co-operative Election Authority and to create a Cooperative Election Wing under the control of Registrar. The government attributed it to the recommendation of the Second Administrative Reforms Commission to reduce the additional expenditure on the maintenance of the Co-operative Election Authority.

Siddu Savadi, Terdal MLA, alleged that the Bill will have an adverse impact on the cooperative sector. When he stated that the government wanted the Bill to be passed to rehabilitate its supporters by converting the cooperative institutions into "ganji kendras" (gruel centres) for them, the Congress MLAs took him to task.

Leader of Opposition R Ashoka clarified that the BJP is not against reservation. Basanagouda Patil Yatnal attacked the government stating that it will have a negative impact as directors nominated from outside may spoil cooperative institutions.

The Assembly also passed the Karnataka Souharda Sahakari (amendment) Bill, 2024, with similar objectives.

Param: FIR against BJP leaders for fomenting communal trouble

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AN FIR was registered against BJP legislators Vedavyas Kamath and Bharat Shetty as they were fomenting unrest and communal trouble, said Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara in the Council on Monday.

He was replying to MLCs Srinivas Poojary and Ravi Kumar, who raised the issue of police action.

When the BJP leaders again raised the issue of Keragodu where Hanuman flag was brought down, he said the gram panchayat had sought permission to fly the national flag or state flag, but violated the rules by hoisting the saffron flag.

When BJP leaders asked why it was brought down at 3 am, he said the police had to deal with resistance on the ground before bringing the flag down.

On the incident in Belagavi, where a woman from an oppressed section was humiliated, he said seven persons were arrested immediately, and later some more were nabbed.

On BJP members' allegation that police action was delayed, he said the incident occurred around 9 pm. "We moved the woman to the hospital and the police gave her protection immediately after it came to their notice," he added.

2 MLAs seek anticipatory bail in St Gerosa case

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

ANTICIPATING their arrest by Mangaluru South police, five accused, including two MLAs, two corporators and a leader of Vishwa Hindu Parishad, moved the special court for the trial of criminal cases against former and sitting MPs/MLAs, seeking anticipatory bail over the crime registered against them.

Based on a complaint by Anil Gerald Lobo on February 14, the police had registered the FIR against them for allegedly inciting people and assembling near St Gerosa High School at Valencia in Mangaluru. The protest was held after an audio message went viral stating that teacher Sister Prabha had hurt the sentiments of Hindus by demeaning their Gods.

The accused are Vedavyas Kamath, MLA of Mangaluru South and Dr Y Bharath Shetty, MLA of Mangaluru North, Sharan Kumar alias Sharan Pumpwell, VHP leader, and two Mangaluru corporators -- Sandeep and Bharath Kumar.

A senior counsel, representing the accused, contended that allegations of MLAs inciting people to violence are not forthcoming in the entire complaint as no such incident took place. Only to cover up the misdeeds of Sister Prabha, as an afterthought, the complaint was filed two days after the alleged incident, he argued.

The public prosecutor said she required time to get instructions from the Mangaluru police and orally objected to the grant of interim bail.

Judge Santhosh Gajanan Bhat said at this juncture, the petitioners have made grounds for granting interim bail. The court granted them relief, stating that interim bail will be in force till the disposal of the petition. The petitioners shall not tamper or threaten the prosecution witnesses and the petitioners shall not indulge in similar offences, the court noted.

Issuing notice to the state, the hearing of the anticipatory bail petition was adjourned for February 20.

IAS officer begins inquiry into school row

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

THE additional commissioner of the Education Department, Kalaburagi, on Monday started inquiry into the St Gerosa school controversy.

IAS officer Akash Shankar, who arrived in Mangaluru on Monday, collected preliminary information about the incident from officials concerned. The case pertains to a teacher of the school accused of making derogatory comments against Hindu religion.

"I arrived here for a fact-finding inquiry about the incident. I have collected preliminary information from officials, including the DDPI and BEO, at the office of the DDPI. I will be here for two more days and conduct the inquiry from all angles. I will submit a report to the state government at the earliest," he said.

The state government appointed Shankar to probe the incident after a few parents of students of St Gerosa school alleged that teacher Sr Prabha had hurt religious sentiments of Hindus by making derogatory comments against Lord Ram. Hindutva outfits and BJP leaders had protested outside the school prompting the school management to dismiss the teacher.

The school administration has denied the allegations. Meanwhile, an FIR was lodged against several people, including BJP MLAs Vedavyas Kamath and Bharat Shetty, on charges of promoting enmity.

Due to emergency maintenance work at Summanahalli Electric Crematorium, the BBMP has closed the crematorium till February 29. People are advised to utilise crematoriums in Kengeri, Medi Agrahara or Peenya. For more information, call 9480688530.

Jayalalithaa case: TN to take over seized valuables

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Special Court hearing the disproportionate assets case involving former Tamil Nadu CM late J Jayalalithaa on Monday, has fixed the date to return the valuables including gold and diamond jewels seized in connection with the case.

The court has directed the Tamil Nadu government to depute the authorised officers on March 6 and 7 to take over the valuables.

Judge HA Mohan passed the order. The TN government, after the order passed on the last date of hearing, had authorised Principal Secretary of the Home Department and Inspector General of Police (IGP), Vigilance, to complete the formalities in compliance with the court order and take the valuables back to Tamil Nadu.

The court also instructed them to bring six trunks to take the valuables safely and asked the two authorised officials to come with a photographer and a videographer to record the handover.

This apart, considering the seriousness of the issue, the court has instructed the officials concerned, to deploy adequate security personnel to ensure the smooth transfer of the valuables. Meanwhile, the Special Public Prosecutor informed the court that the Tamil Nadu government is yet to comply with the order passed for payment of Rs 5 crore to the Karnataka government to bear the expenses for conducting the trial in the disproportionate assets case. Further hearing will be held on March 6. The trial in the disproportionate assets case was held in Karnataka on the direction of the Supreme Court and therefore all material evidence are in Karnataka.

The Special Court convicted Jayalalithaa and others in 2014 and the same was set aside by the Karnataka HC in 2015. It was set aside by the Supreme Court in 2017 and confirmed the special court's judgment, abating Jayalalithaa as she had passed away by then.

Valuables worth crores

The seized valuables, worth crores of rupees, included 7,040 grams of 468 types of gold and diamond jewellery, 700Kg silver jewellery, 11,344 silk sarees, 740 expensive slippers, 250 shawls, 12 refrigerators, 10 TV sets, eight VCRs, one video camera, 4 CD players, 2 audio decks, 24 two-in-one tape recorders, 1,040 video cassettes, three iron lockers and ₹ 1,93,202 cash.

K'taka to hold meet with TN, Kerala on man-animal conflict

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kozhikode

AFTER the intervention of Wayanad MP Rahul Gandhi, Karnataka will be taking the initiative to convene a joint meeting of the three states, to tackle the wildlife problem.

Apart from allocating Rs 15 lakh to Ajeesh's family, the Karnataka Government, will now be convening a joint meeting of Forest Ministers of all three states, Karnataka, Kerala, and Tamil Nadu, to seek a permanent solution for the man-animal conflict, Karnataka Forest and Environment Minister Ishwar B Khandre said in a letter sent to Rahul Gandhi.

After Rahul Gandhi, Kerala Governor Arif Mohammed Khan also visited the family members of the animal attack victims in Wayanad.

He assured to take up the issue with the State and Central Government. He also urged the people from the farming community in the district to not resort to violence in this issue.

The governor met the representatives of Christian religious groups and various farming communities in the district, who expressed anguish that the Wayanad police have arrested farmers for protesting against the repeated wildlife attacks.

The governor further said, "I have already contacted some of the ministers in the State to discuss the issue. I will do everything under my capacity to pressurize both, the centre and the state to bring an end to this issue."

TN govt presents please-all budget to achieve 7 grand Tamil dreams

T MURUGANANDHAM @ Chennai

WITH the Lok Sabha polls round the corner, Finance Minister Thangam Thennarasu on Monday presented a please-all budget to "achieve the seven grand Tamil dreams of the CM" by rolling out new schemes and extending old ones. The seven dreams are "social justice, welfare of the marginalised, welfare of women, transforming young Tamils into global achievers, knowledge-based economy, sustainable green future, and Tamil language and culture," the FM said.

The new schemes to turn the dreams into reality include eight lakh concrete houses for people residing in huts under Kalaignarin Kanavu Illam, a comprehensive poverty alleviation programme named Chief Minister's Thayumanavar Scheme, extension of Rs,1,000 monthly aid, currently being given to girl students of government schools to pursue higher education section, to boys, and payroll subsidy schemes to increase employment of women and build a knowledge based economy, among others.

Outlining the government's aim to create a hut-free Tamil Nadu by 2030, Thennarasu said eight lakh concrete houses will be constructed in rural areas under the Kalaignarin Kanavu Illam.

In the first phase, one lakh new houses will be built at a cost of Rs.3.50 lakh per house at an allocation of Rs.3,500 crore, he said. Pointing to a recent survey, Thennarasu said there are about eight lakh huts in Tamil Nadu, and the beneficiaries identified under the scheme will also be provided with house sites if they are landless. Funds for constructing the houses will be directly credited into the bank accounts of beneficiaries, he said.

Area under agroforestry increasing, say experts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING the NITI Ayog Report - Greening and Restoration of Wasteland with Agroforestry (GROW), Karnataka is assessing the area under agroforestry, and the report will be shared with the Centre.

The report has been prepared using remote sensing and GIS to assess agroforestry suitable across all Indian districts. GROW mapping is uploaded on the newly developed Bhuvan portal. The Agroforestry Suitability Index (ASI) has been been developed to integrate multiple data sets including wastelands, land use, land cover, water bodies, soil organic carbon and slopes.

As per the report, agroforestry covers 8.65 per cent of India's total geographical area, totalling about 28.42 million hectares. The current report underscores the potential benefits of converting underutilized areas, especially wastelands, for agroforestry.

The GROW initiative aligns with national commitments, aiming to restore 26 million hectares of degraded land by 2030 and create an additional carbon sink equivalent to 2.5 to 3 billion tonnes of carbon dioxide.

In 2014, India introduced the National Agroforestry Policy to improve sustainability and profitability through alternative land use systems. It aligns with global and national commitments such as the Paris Agreement, Bonn Challenge, UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), UN Convention to Combat Desertification (UNCCD), and the Green India Mission.

The report also noted that the central government in 2022- 23 underlined the promotion of agroforestry and private forestry as a priority. India is also the the seventh largest country that faces issues like increase in built-up area, land degradation and imbalanced resources.

T'gana CM to get clearance for cabinet expansion

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hyderabad

TELANGANA Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy, along with Deputy Chief Minister Mallu Bhatti Vikramarka and AICC Telangana in-charge Deepa Das Munshi, arrived at Delhi to participate in a private, and official programme. Sources from Revanth's office said that they have sought appointment to meet Union Ministers on Tuesday.

The CM's tour assumes significance as it is speculated that he would get clearances for his cabinet expansion, and appointment of around 15 nominated posts.

The Chief Minister, Deputy Chief Minister, and IT Minister are likely to meet AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge, general secretary KC Venugopal, and other top leaders as well.

Revanth is likely to request the party high command to field Priyanka Gandhi from Telangana, as Sonia Gandhi chose to file Rajya Sabha nomination from Rajasthan.

Sources reveal that Revanth has prepared a list of probables for the six vacant cabinet berths, and corporation chairperson posts.

Green tax: Bandipur collects ₹4.5 cr in 10 months

Mysuru: Authorities of the Bandipur Tiger Reserve have collected a revenue of ₹4.5 crore in just 10 months through 'Green Tax' from inter-state vehicles. The authorities are charging a fee of ₹50 for buses and minibuses and ₹20 for cars which pass through Bandipur towards Tamil Nadu and Kerala. Though the initiative was proposed in 2019, collection of the cess began from April 2023. Speaking on the collection of cess amount, Bandipur Tiger Reserve director Ramesh Kumar said the amount collected will be used to pay wages of the frontline staff of the forest department. "The tax is being collected from inter-district and inter-state vehicles. The amount collected from the tax will be used for the wages and welfare of the staff without waiting for the allotment of funds from the government," he said.

Odisha Cong to release candidates' list by Mar 1

Bhubaneswar: In an attempt to steal a march over the BJD and BJP in the state, the Odisha Pradesh Congress Committee (OPCC) has decided to release the first list of 70 candidates for the Lok Sabha and Assembly elections by March 1. This was announced by OPCC president Sarat Pattanayak on Monday after a meeting of the state election committee of the party. The meeting was convened to discuss aspirants who have applied for tickets through the Pragaman app. The process of candidate selection of Congress has started with the meeting where discussions were held on applications received for the Assembly and Lok Sabha elections, he said. He said that the list will be approved by screening committee before it is announced by AICC.

Over 100 revenue officials demoted in Kalaburagi dist

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI @ Kalaburagi

A rare incident of demotion of over 100 employees of Revenue Department, including 68 Second Division Assistants/village Administrative Officers and 33 peons in Kalaburagi district, who were given promotion to the higher posts less than a year back, has taken place here.

According to the official sources, 68 employees (33 employees who were working as Second Division Assistants and 35 employees who were working as Village Development Officers) in different offices of revenue department in Kalaburagi district were promoted as First Division Assistant (FDA) and were also given posting on 18-05-2023 giving the benefit of scale of salary of FDA post with retrospective effect from 17-07-22021.

The sources said that it has come to light that the authority concerned headed by the then Deputy Commissioner did not consider the fact as to how many FDA posts were vacant when the promotions and posting to Second Division Assistants (SDAs) and Village Development Officers as First Division Assistants were given. It was also necessary to get the details of whether the employees getting promotion had faced any departmental inquiry and a final report was given on the inquiry. But this procedure was not followed while giving promotion, sources said.

Based on the letter of the President of Karnataka State Village Administrative Officers Association to the Secretary of Revenue Department to stop the process of giving promotion as the promotions had been given though there were no vacancies of FDA posts in Kalaburagi, the Secretary to the Revenue Department asked the Regional Commissioner and Deputy Commissioner to take necessary action and send compliance report to the government.

Based on this, an inquiry was conducted and the promotion order dated 18-05-2023 was withdrawn through a notification by the present Deputy Commissioner Fouzia Tarannum on 14-02-2014 and the employees had been asked to go back to their original post which they were holding before the promotion.

DC's response

DC Fouzia Tarannum told TNIE that she has followed the directions of the State government.

The seniority list of 'D' Group employees working in the district has been published on 16-02-2024 and the employees concerned can file their objections if any within 15 days.

TP murder convicts may get capital punishment

P RAMDAS @ Kochi

IN a significant turn of events surrounding the TP Chandrasekharan murder case of 2012, the Kerala High Court has announced its deliberation on the possibility of awarding capital punishment to the nine convicts currently serving life term.

The move marks a crucial juncture in the legal proceedings, reigniting public interest and scrutiny into one of the shocking political murders in the state.

The decision was taken on the plea by the state government and K K Rema, Vadakara MLA and Chandrasekharan's wife, seeking maximum punishment to the accused.

Rema said the accused persons committed the murder in a planned and brutal manner by engaging professional criminals and after several attempts. Hence, the trial court ought to have given them maximum punishment, including capital punishment, and awarded heavy compensation to the victim, she said.

The division bench directed the jail superintendent to produce the nine life convicts in court in February to decide enhancement of their sentence. The bench also sought reports on the convicts from the probation officer concerned.

Court acquits suspects in '07 murder case

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

THE Special Court in Bengaluru acquitted suspected maoist BG Krishnamurthy and former Naxal leader Neelguli Padmanabha, as the prosecution failed to prove the involvement of the two, in the murder of KG Venkatesh at Gandagatta village, Sringeri taluk in 2007.

It is said that the Venkatesh's murder was an alleged act of revenge, for causing the death of a naxalite, Dinakar, in a police encounter near Kerumudi.

Judge Gangadhara CM, Special Court for NIA cases, passed the order on Monday, acquitting Krishnamurthy, accused No 1, and Neelguli Padmanabha, accused No 5, and noted that only police witnesses supported the prosecution's case. Even the evidence of those witnesses is also not sufficient to prove the presence of the accused at the time of the incident, or their involvement in the said crime. Hence, there is no evidence to show that they committed any act as alleged by the prosecution. In the absence of any material in support of the allegations, it cannot be said that they have committed the offence, the court noted.

> Eyewitnesses of the incident have not supported the prosecution's case, and the son of the deceased supported the prosecution, but denied the presence of the accused at the time of the murder
>
> - Special Court's observation

On the allegations that the accused formed an unlawful assembly to commit an offence under Section 13 of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, by shouting anti-government slogans and assisting the naxals in anti-social activities, the court said that the eyewitnesses of the incident have not supported the prosecution's case to prove these allegations either, and the son of the deceased supported the prosecution, but denied the presence of the accused at the time of the murder.

According to the complainant Madhura, wife of the deceased, on the evening of June 3, 2007, four unknown people came to their shop, dragged Venkatesh out, assaulted him, and disconnected the telephone line.

They took away grocery items along with cash and a mobile phone. Threatening her at gunpoint, out of the four, three fired at Venkatesh's head and chest, and cut his torso with a sword, on the instruction of another person.

RED-BALL CRICKET: CHOICE SHOULD BE WITH THE PLAYERS

A week or so ago, the Indian cricket board decided to come out with a policy making it mandatory for contracted players to make themselves available for Ranji Trophy matches. The only exemptions would be for players called up to the national team or those recuperating from injuries. In theory, this is a sound measure to ensure players do not skip red-ball cricket for the IPL. But such a policy—it is not yet known if and when the BCCI will officially implement it—could give rise to problems down the road. Let us forget that the same BCCI prioritised the IPL over Ranji Trophy during the pandemic years; the latter was cancelled in 2021 while its 2022 edition was truncated. There are three different formats and a lot of players to go around. If a centrally contracted player wants to specialise in both white-ball formats, they should be empowered to do so. Passing such a policy could mean players turning up against their will. In such a situation, there will be no winners.

To give an example, a young English batter, Will Smeed, gave up his red-ball career to focus on becoming a better player in limited-over cricket. This is the way of the world. A system like this promotes much-needed specialisation. The international cricket calendar is very cramped after the advent of T20 cricket and its exponential growth. With players having to manage workloads and balance family life, it may not be possible to keep themselves available all the time.

So what if they opt out for a month rather than strap their pads? What if they opt to take a break during the Ranji Trophy rather than the IPL? A more grown-up way of resolving issues would be the BCCI getting in touch with players and finding out if they have reservations about playing a format and, if yes, empowering them to leave the format. It should not threaten players of severe consequences if they do not appear in the country's domestic red-ball tournaments. It just sends the wrong message. On one hand, the BCCI in a novel gesture has allowed players like Virat Kohli and R Ashwin to take leave for personal reasons, this mandatory rule may not go well with its player-friendly face. After all, consent does matter.

ODISHA SHOULD DESIST FROM FISCAL LARGESSE

IT'S raining sops in Odisha. From free uniforms to jute bags, the Biju Janata Dal government is doling out freebies at a frenetic pace ahead of the elections. The latest meeting of the state cabinet approved ₹1,000 to each of the 70 lakh members of women self help groups (SHGs) to buy uniforms. At least 1.5 lakh executive members of such groups would also be entitled to ₹2,000 each to buy blazers. Last year, the government had rolled out a loan scheme for SHG members to enable them to buy scooters, entailing a provision of ₹528 crore to take care of the interest subvention. Women SHGs are a key constituency of the Naveen Patnaik government, which is seeking a sixth mandate on the trot. But the net of offerings has been cast wider. The government last week announced a one-time cash assistance of ₹1,000 to each ration-card-holding family to help them fight price rise in essential commodities. Each of these 95.6 lakh families, translating to 3.35 crore of the population, will also get two jute bags—a gesture that will cost ₹278 crore—to collect food from fair price outlets. Schemes worth ₹2,000 crore have been announced in just one week, raising the hackles of opposition parties and economic analysts alike.

The key question is why the freebies and for how long? Two contrasting views have emerged. One critiques it as a form of appeasement of certain constituents. This comes at the cost of sound economics. The government has a history of churning out schemes—some new, some rehashed—close to elections. The colour of the freebies bags may have changed, but the freebies have not. The other view is that a healthy fiscal status allows it to dole out such sops. A revenue-surplus state, Odisha's loan payment obligations are among the lowest. Its capital formation as part of the state GDP is among the highest and helps it fund capital expenditure. Buoyant mining revenues and GST earnings have acted as cushion to open the purse strings for such populist schemes. So why not? However, there is unanimity in the view that the state must resist from joining the bandwagon of Karnataka and Rajasthan, where successive governments have not been able to get out of vicious cycles. Odisha must not fritter away its hard-earned fiscal advantage for short-term benefits.

QUICK TAKE

A CALL ON SCHOOLS

ENGLAND has banned the use of mobile phones at school. English schools can bar the devices altogether or allow them given they are "never used, seen or heard". Unesco was clearer last year when calling for keeping mobile phones off school premises, saying their excessive use affected educational performance and emotional stability. Delhi struck a fine balance while implementing a ban last August after an association of private schools requested for it—mobile phones are barred from schools for both teachers and students, but schools are also directed to set up helplines that parents and students can use. Education comes first, but not at the cost of safety.

A lack of national focus on development and welfare has kept Pakistan in disarray. The Army is divided, as is the polity, leaving few options for post-poll stability

HAMSTRUNG BY HISTORY, DIVIDED BY AMBITION

LT GEN SYED ATA HASNAIN (RETD)

Former Commander, Srinagar-based 15 Corps. Now Chancellor, Central University of Kashmir

A neighbouring country under stress for long—especially one with whom we have had a troubled history—will not fade from the mind, whatever be its state. So many analysts are trying to figure what has changed in Pakistan after the recent general elections in which Imran Khan's perceptibly popular party, Pakistan Tehreek e Insaaf (PTI), was axed out by a smart legal move. Despite that, the party got a solid backing from the people through the independent candidates it backed. Although not yet set in concrete, we could see a PML(N) government in Islamabad headed by Shahbaz Sharif and with issue-based support by the PPP of Bilawal Bhutto. PPP had an opportunity to take some important portfolios in the government, but declined. There is a common belief that the real winner in this election is the Pakistan Army. Yet, others are of the opinion that by placing controls on the participation of PTI and not adhering to the popular sentiment of the youth, the Army has called upon itself a major problem for the future. All this needs examination.

What needs reiteration is the fact that Pakistan, with 240 million people, is the fifth largest nation in the world in terms of population, but has a weak economy with a GDP of $340 billion and current forex holdings of $8.27 billion. Its national debt is at $223 billion. Its social indicators are dismal and the effects of climate change are being profoundly felt year upon year, without sufficient recourse to any institutional counters.

While money may be scarce, the more acute scarcity is about human commitment and a sense of empathy with the common people—all in a society with a massive asymmetry between the haves and the have-nots. For any upward movement in its social and economic parameters, Pakistan desperately needs a period of stability at its borders and resolution of internal conflicts to allow the deployment of a higher share of the limited funds on development. Unfortunately for it, political stability has eluded the country for long—its quality of politics is vicious and the streets are often paralysed by political stakeholders with selfish agenda. An ideologically-oriented terrorist movement threatens to hijack much of the attention and could be virtually the seed element for another cycle of global terror.

What has kept Pakistan in disarray is the lack of national focus on development and social welfare. India, too, has divisive politics, but one look at the administrative set-up displays a commitment to uplift the people; politics is played to the hilt but development is an electoral agenda, and the Indian Army is completely apolitical, unlike in Pakistan.

With Pakistan's four main provinces governed by four different parties, finding a common thread for welfare is going to be difficult, especially because there is also the issue of the Army's domination of politics. So deeply is the Army embedded in non-productive and self-aggrandising governance, that it can hardly be the arbitrator of differences among political parties and set the tone for a corruption-free attempt at uplifting the nation. It assumes unto itself responsibility towards the three primary issues of strategic national security—Kashmir, Afghanistan and internal security. That sets the agenda for everything. To break from the stranglehold, the relevant political parties have to emerge and either work with the Army on diluting the existing threats, or continue in the same light, thus only enhancing the threats.

Unfortunately for the people of Pakistan, both sides seem to have pushed the other to a corner from which any cooperation seems very improbable. First, the Army believes in maintaining its own relevance by projecting external and internal threats. As any other nation which has major development challenges, a moratorium on border issues needs to be placed with a minimalistic approach. The problem here is that the security establishment will invariably argue in favor of running a campaign in J&K and will energetically push back against the Taliban on the Pak-Afghan border. The security establishment is also unwilling to accept the degree of harm caused by the campaign to radicalise society and capture the ideological street of Islam.

General Asim Munir's ability to get the Army to climb down from its high horse is suspect. There is a divide within the Pakistan Army, as was evident in May 9, 2023 during the infamous Lahore incident involving the Corps Commander's flagstaff house. A sentiment in favour of Imran Khan is also reported among the lower ranks of the officer cadre. The Army is divided and so is the polity, such that none trusts the other in the formation of a coalition government.

Even the Army's capability of influencing, supporting and eventually urging government formation has diluted considerably. Being close to the uniform is also being perceived as a negative by most political parties in an era when the Army is getting unpopular. The Army will not rule on its own, as it does not wish to be tainted by failure and its political label will not be helpful for Pakistan in its outreach to the international community.

One option would be to return to fresh elections without any restrictions, in which case the PTI would score. This would be completely unacceptable to the Army. Second could be an interim coalition government with Army support on the lines of the Pakistan Democratic Movement, which was set up to fight Imran Khan. The PPP will need convincing on this as trust between the Zardaris and the Sharifs isn't too strong. That is what the Army will wish too, more as a reprieve.

Sooner than later, the Army has to come to terms with the reality of Imran's current popularity and the severe challenge that the rest of the polity, including the Army, faces in light of it. The Army, less the current leadership, could still get Imran on board and be in business. That spells the danger for General Munir, whose presence could be viewed as the stumbling block. We have been speaking of the need for Imran to watch his back. It is time General Munir followed the same advice for himself.

THE WILD POLITICS OF BIG CATS

C P SURENDRAN

Poet, novelist, and screenplay writer. His latest novel is One Love and the Many Lives of Osip B

LAST week, the Vishva Hindu Parishad (VHP) moved the Calcutta High Court's Jalpaiguri circuit bench against calling a lioness 'Sita', as it hurt Hindu religious sentiments. This news of victimhood—of the majority—was greeted with catcalls and derisory laughter by the liberal and woke crowd.

Sita and her male companion, Akbar, were brought to the Bengal Safari Park on February 13 from the Sepahijala zoo in Tripura, where the two cats had occupied a single enclosure. Their cohabitation continues in North Bengal.

The Bengal Safari Park officials said they had nothing to do with the naming. For close to six and eight years, respectively, the lioness and the lion had been responding to the names given to them by Tripura forest officials. There has been no violence between them. An exemplary marriage, as it were.

Names are just sounds for animals. But not for humans, who could kill and die for them, because a name is an abbreviated history. Of families, places, professions, gods and castes. This is a country where if you have the wrong name, you could end up dead.

The VHP activists said in their petition: "On Feb 8, 2024, Sepahijala Zoological Park handed over one male lion and a lioness along with eight other animals to North Bengal Wildlife Animals Park, Siliguri .... The Bengal Safari Park has named the female lion 'Sita'. By using the name for a lioness, the respondent authority is hurting the religious sentiments of Sanatan Dharma... Such naming of a cat family after a religious deity is irrational, illogical... very much sacrilegious and tantamount to blasphemy." The petition further stated that the animals be christened neutrally. This does sound 'irrational,' and 'illogical'. Therefore, it is a reasonable demand in our woke times.

If the charge were made by a minority community, it might have had more sympathetic reactions. The VHP's claim about 'hurt sentiments' can be almost laughed out of court because it is the VHP. Yet, 'hurt sentiments' represent the essence of the present-day culture of entitlement and victimhood: I feel offended. The feeling is the fact. The fact itself is nothing. If the prevalent guiding sentiment of justice is that one can take offence at another's so-called insensitivity, then the VHP finding offence in the name Sita attached to a wild animal is justified. Especially if her partner is Akbar.

The progressive media has made it out to be some kind of a risible attempt on the part of the VHP to recast the Sita-Akbar relationship into a love jihad mould. But that is not what it is. Though in my book you could, you wouldn't normally call your pet python Christ or Muhammad, or your favourite parrot after a Hindu goddess.

PTI

> The VHP wants a zoo lioness's name changed from Sita. If the argument of 'hurt sentiments' is valid for the woke-identitarian liberal, then it should be valid for the VHP too. The arrogance of the anglicised comprador class has created the space that saffron leaders expertly exploit

In India, especially in the big cities, pets are usually given Christian names. For instance, India's most famous dog, thanks to Mahua Moitra, is called Henry. Would that offend the British royalty whose lineage can be traced to Henry VII? It just might, given our times. But it would not be taken seriously because the British royalty is privileged. But, can't the privileged feel hurt? They can, but that would roughly be Yascha Mounk's—more about him in a moment—universal value system in which everyone has rights, not just the 'victim'.

The VHP plea for a change in the nomenclature is just insofar as 'hurt sentiments' is a valid argument. If it is valid for the woke-identitarian liberal, then it is valid for the VHP as well. A name change is unlikely to make much difference to the cat's perception of the world—so long as her meals come on time.

The boycott-and-cancel culture, so much a part of the woke politics, has come home to say. It might be ironical that a majoritarian religion in a state transitioning to a majoritarian Hindu state is now compulsively claiming that their dignity has been systematically stolen over the centuries by the Mughals, by the British, and then by the anglicised comprador bourgeois class of Nehrus and Gandhis, is now taking offence at the so-called love jihad of wild cats. Yet this is the currency of correctness that the woke inaugurated their era with.

Yascha Mounk, a leading German-American public intellectual and academic, in his latest book, The Identity Trap, talks about the origin of a set of ideas about identity and social justice that is rapidly transforming the world. He explains why it will fail to accomplish its goals, owing primarily to a process innate to the identity politics of our times when race, gender, or religion are seen as representing vertical classes of separatism rather than universal humanism. If we rank identity over universalism, separation over whole, we end up in a world worse both for the dominant and the marginalised, Mounk says.

The Indian liberal has been laughing over the Sita incident. On the face of it, the cartoonish character of the VHP complaint is worthy of derision: the Sanatani Hindu is attributing religion to wild animals in an act of cartoonish anthropomorphism.

But, the arrogant guffaw is one reason why the BJP keeps winning major elections outside the English-spouting, upper-middle-class drawing rooms of urban India. Their scorn for the majority religion and its saffron eccentricities created the space that Narendra Modi so expertly manipulates. So much so, he opens or ends speeches in Parliament with Ram-Ram.

As the 2024 election nears, there will be many more Sita-Akbar situations. Laughing at them is one option. The other is to listen. Respect your enemy if you want a change in the outcome of the contest.

Animal conflicts

The volatile situation in Wayanad after two persons were killed by wild animals is worrisome. Though people have the right to protest, resorting to violent methods and manhandling forest officials is deplorable. It is time to conduct a scientific study to analyse the growing cases of human-animal conflicts.

Seatless Salem

When I went to see the Ranji Trophy match between Tamil Nadu and Punjab at the Salem Cricket Foundation stadium on Sunday, I was aghast to find that there were only 10 chairs and no place to sit. One had to stand and watch the match. With only two small tents put up, there was no shade to take shelter too. This is a first class tournament and the Tamil Nadu Cricket Association should have ensured basic facilities.

'North Vs South debate only serves local politics'

Instead of debating which part of the country is growing more, we should see them as centres of excellence, says Shaurya Doval, founder of India Foundation

WITH the Opposition-ruled South increasingly raising the accusation of federal discrimination against the South, Santwana Bhattacharya and Dipak Mondal caught up with Shaurya Doval, a member of the BJP and founder of the India Foundation, to know how the party is dealing with what's assuming the contours of a North vs South debate. Excerpts:

India's economic landscape has over the decades seen a broad North-South 'growth divide'. That has set the context for a national debate, with persistent questioning of the patterns of central fund disbursal. How does the Modi government view this picture of asymmetry — of both growth and the distribution of growth hormones, as it were?
There is an asymmetry of growth between the North and the South. Broadly, the South is growing at about 8% and the North is growing at maybe 4% or 5%, and therefore, the national average is about six. Now, this happens in every part of the world, in every nation, there are certain pockets that grow faster. There are many factors — whether it's the coastal line, fertile plains, or the rate of literacy, etc. And there are other factors that contribute to that. So, there is nothing unique about it, it happens in every part of the world.

So, as a country, instead of debating which part of the country is growing more,we should see them as centres of excellence and that they become more competitive globally.

Many of the northern states are landlocked states, they don't have the access to ports and the export markets. The northern states bore the brunt of colonisation more than the Southern states.

So the short answer to your question is, yes, it is a matter of concern. But the way the issue is being debated, it only serves the domestic politics of the region.

The 15th Finance Commission has come up with a very fair formula for allocating the money that comes into the exchequer. I was actually looking at the numbers, and I could see that there is a very fair distribution. The southern states as a whole have about 17% of our total population. If you look at the allocation of central grants to centrally sponsored schemes, the Southern states get ₹72,826 crore out of the ₹2.57 lakh crore released by the central government. So that's actually 30% of the total money spent when the southern states are only 17% of the population. So where is the disparity? Actually, the Centre is giving the money in line with the proportion of the population.

So you are saying the Centre is actually making allocations beyond what the population share calls for. But it's the gap between what they contribute and what they receive that creates this narrative, which can become a political-psychological divide from being a purely economic one...how do you address that?
You don't let the politicians feed the psychological divide. You present counter-arguments to the people, because this (divide) is not in their (people's) mind, it is being created in their minds. Secondly, we should try and create more balanced growth. The government must give more incentives — in the form of subsidies, tax breaks, better infrastructure, or in the form of supporting human indices — to the states that are left behind.

Are critics missing something in terms of the Modi government's policies and initiatives for the southern states? What is your assessment of the impact they have had? How have they benefited?
The Modi government has not made policies based on any idea that this is for Southern states or this is for Northern states. The Modi government, for the last 10 years, has implemented policies which have been good for India. But take, for example, the Sagarmala Project for linking all our ports. This has disproportionately benefited the southern states, because the most of the ports are in the South. The sole objective of this project was to boost Indian trade, and not gain any political mileage out of it. So, the government has followed a very fair and balanced policy, and it depends on region to region — what one region can absorb and what the other region needs.

Most of the Southern states have followed a model of welfarism. On most human development indices, they score over other states. This has also attracted charges that some of these states, especially TN and Kerala, follow a path of fiscal profligacy. Does the BJP's development model offer an alternative — one that balances all imperatives — to what is the tradition in the region?
Welfarism is a common issue across the country. And state governments not being very fiscally prudent is also a chronic problem across the country. I would not say Southern states have followed a path of fiscal profligacy and welfarism. As a matter of fact, Southern states might have actually done better in the way they have spent their money on education and healthcare. And that is giving them a higher return on capital than some of the northern states. So, to that extent, other states must learn from the models that the South followed.

Karnataka and Telangana are defence manufacturing hubs. The Centre has now chosen UP for building a defence corridor. How would you dispel the perception that it's not at the cost of those traditional defence hubs?
Why should we not have three or four big defence hubs or manufacturing hubs? A defence hub coming up in one state is not a loss to the other. Before this government came, the defence budget of this country was about $50 billion. A country that was sending satellites into space was buying simple firearms and bulletproof vests from overseas. At one time, we were even buying socks from abroad! In the last 10 years, such a country has moved towards becoming Atmanirbhar Bharat. We will do import substitution, we can start with our $50 billion defence budget. So, we are setting up defence manufacturing plants everywhere in the country. When policy planners plan for the country, they have to take a holistic view and a balanced view.

Similar questions were asked in Maharashtra, when some large-ticket investments were diverted to Gujarat. Also, there is space for a GIFT city in the South... all the human and technological ground exists.
Politics sometimes finds a way to keep saying things to create controversies when none exists. Gujarat has its own advantages and it may get some of those investments. Gujarat has got GIFT City, which is very important for the country. There are two centres — Singapore and Dubai — that have emerged in the world purely out of the inefficiencies that emanate from India. If you build a GIFT City in Gujarat to compete with Dubai, we may have to build one in due time in the South to compete with Singapore.

The 'North-South divide' is also simplistic. The South is no monolith: there are large areas of deprivation within. Can you share your perspectives on future trends and policy directions that would ensure overall economic prosperity in the region?
I would say that each of these states has now by and large developed some unique competitive advantage. And they should build on those competitive advantages, and create scale, speed and size that is globally competitive. That will allow you to get disproportionate value, add steam in that region, which will then help you plan development through the state exchequer or through your own economic growth in that area.

Bengaluru is known as India's start-up capital. Other southern states also have the manpower, talent and resources to become start-up hubs. How can you ensure they too benefit from the Centre's efforts to encourage the start-up ecosystem?
I think there is a very delicate balance between how much an individual place with its specialty must be allowed to build its scale, how much you can replicate, how much you should be do for distribution. Bangalore has become the start-up capital, it's very difficult to now say that Kakinada will also become a start-up capital. But if Bangalore continues to build on its start-up ecosystem, and Silicon Valley-style branding, the benefits could reach all the way to Mysore or even Kakinada.

So, the startup boom has gone to Bangalore, but semiconductors is still open play. Andhra Pradesh, with its water, electricity and ports, can become the semiconductor capital of India and even of the world. Similarly, Tamil Nadu already has a manufacturing base of autos, but autos are increasingly going to go away from diesel to EVs. TN already has the fabrication units, the foundries, the production lines. Now, how do we change ourselves to the new world? So, they go about competing for or building a Tesla of their own. any age of their life.

Southern states are concerned that the delimitation of parliamentary constituencies will render them irrelevant in national politics. How would you like to assure these states that this will not be the case?
We address it by greater awareness, greater education, by giving better explanations, by making people realise that what they're thinking is not correct. Today, you are 17% of the population. You have 132 seats in Parliament, which is 25% of the proportional representation. In a democracy, where the population is higher, they will get more representation. This is inevitable: political size will come to wherever the population is.

'Entirely, staunchly with Cong', Tharoor says not joining BJP

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

WITH the Congress grappling with exodus of its high-profile leaders ahead of Lok Sabha polls, Congress MP Shashi Tharoor on Monday asserted that he would stay "staunchly and entirely" with the grand old party. He said that the 10-year of BJP government has shown that the Congress is the best alternative to the people. Tharoor was speaking at 'Delhi Dialogues' organised by this newspaper.

When asked about suspense over Kamal Nath's move, the Thiruvananthapuram MP said, "The party has already spoken about it. A number of friends and associates of Kamal Nath responded that it is nonsense. Same with Manish Tewari and his office has dismissed it as baseless. We should understand that speculation is your game and there is no reason for us to add fuel to it." He, however, declined to comment on the recent exits of former Maharashtra CM Ashok Chavan, Milind Deora and Baba Siddique.

Dismissing rumours about him breaking ties with the Congress and switching over to the BJP, Tharoor stressed that he took the plunge into politics not as a careerist but to advance his principles.

"Some people have been saying since 2014 that I'm about to go off to the BJP ecosystem, simply because I don't parrot a certain line and I have a receptivity to other points of view. What they do is overlook a fundamental question of why I'm in politics at all, and be very honest, and say I didn't need to be in politics, and had a full career and a very satisfying one when I came back to India. I could have found other ways of making myself useful and participating in the national conversation," he said, adding that the best way to contribute to shaping a better society is through politics.

He said major parties, including the BJP and the Left, approached him to join them after he left services at the UN. Tharoor said that he chose to join the Congress in 2009 as he believed in its principles, ideas, policies and ideologies.

No state-owned carrier, CAPFs hit air pocket

MUKESH RANJAN @New Delhi

POST-PRIVATIZATION of Air India, the country has had no state-owned carrier. The Central Armed Police Forces (CAPFs) are the net loser. The paramilitary forces are hard-pressed to get seats on sanctioned price bands. Besides, there are no designated flights for the personnel, particularly for those deployed in J&K and northeastern states.

In the aftermath of the Pulwama terror attack in January 2019, the Home Ministry had made a big convoy rule change and had issued an order approving the entitlement of air travel to low-ranking personnel on the Delhi-Srinagar, Srinagar-Delhi, Jammu-Srinagar and Srinagar-Jammu routes.

At least 40 Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF) jawans were killed in that attack.

Officials said that air courier services face challenges due to coordination and financial issues across various locations, affecting personnel of all the CAPFs deployed in the three internal security theatres — J&K, Naxal-affected areas and northeastern states.

During a recent meeting chaired by CRPF Director General Anish Dayal, the problem of seats resurfaced, prompting discussions on finding a solution, said a senior officer.

Officers participating in various deliberations complained they were not getting seats in flights on account of limited capacity, particularly on the Srinagar-Jammu-Delhi route.

The officials also mentioned that on the Delhi-Kolkata-Aizawl route, they get Air Charter Service (ACS) only on Saturdays, posing constraints for personnel, officials said. They said on the Dibrugarh-Guwahati-Delhi route, the air courier services have been stopped, causing severe inconvenience in commuting from challenging locations.

About other routes, officials said jawans are also facing problems on the Kolkata-Imphal-Kolkata route due to increased force deployment in Manipur. The demand was made to expand the frequency of air services from three to five days to accommodate the increased numbers of personnel deployed there.

After the initial decision in 2019 to provide an air courier service to those personnel posted in Jammu & Kashmir, the Ministry extended the facility in all sectors to help security personnel cut down on travel time during their journey to and fro from home on leave.

The eight approved routes include Kolkata-Aizawl-Silchar-Kolkata, Kolkata-Agartala-Kolkata, Kolkata -Imphal-Kolkata, Delhi-Srinagar-Delhi, Srinagar-Jammu-Srinagar, Delhi-Leh-Delhi, Delhi-Dibrugarh-Guwahati-Delhi, and Delhi-Raipur-Jagdalpur-Raipur-Delhi.

MHA meets Ladakh team over statehood demand

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

THE High-Powered Committee of the Union Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) headed by MoS Nityanand Rai on Monday met a delegation from Ladakh here and deliberated on their demands, sources privy to the development said.

They said their demands included statehood to the Union Territory, increasing Lok Sabha seats from one to two (one for Leh and one for Kargil) and bring the high-altitude region under Sixth schedule of the Constitution to accord special status on par with the north-eastern states.

"The 14-member delegation from Ladakh comprising representatives of the Apex Body Leh and Kargil Democratic Alliance, placed their demands before the Rai-led panel," a source said, adding that the participating leaders have decided to cancel their planned hunger strike for February 20.

According to the sources, the Ladakh leaders have collectively agreed to establish a joint sub-committee to delve into the specifics of the issues and further engage in discussions with the MHA officials.

Later in a joint statement, the Ladakh leaders said they have decided to hold another meeting on February 24 to address their demands. The details of the formation of the sub-committee have been communicated to Home Secretary Ajay Kumar Bhalla.

SC seeks Ajit Pawar faction's reply in 1 wk in Sharad's plea against EC order

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday issued a notice to the Ajit Pawar-led faction of the Nationalist Congress Party and sought its response within a week in the appeal filed by the Sharad Pawar-led group against the decision of the Election Commission to recognise the Ajit faction as the real NCP.

Hearing the Sharad faction's appeal, a bench of Justice Surya Kant and Justice KV Viswanathan said, "We would like to examine the matter."

Posting the matter for further hearing after three weeks, it said the EC order of February 7, granting the petitioner the right to use name of NCP-Sharadchandra Pawar as per Symbols Order, should continue. "The petitioner can move the ECI for allotment of the new symbol," the bench said.

No new zoo, safari without approval: SC

Any fresh proposal for opening a zoo or starting a 'safari' on forest land will now require the approval of the Supreme Court, which on Monday issued directions for forest conservation across the country. A bench directed the governments and UT's to provide details of forest land within its jurisdiction to the Centre by March 31.

On the EC's February 6 order, the bench said, "The order says both of you (factions) violated the party constitution, both of you went against the 'aims and objective' and yet no one is disqualified. Just imagine what would happen to the voters, who voted for you."

Senior advocate Abhishek Manu Singhvi, appearing for Sharad Pawar, told the SC that he could not be made "nameless and symbolless".

"It is astonishing. My symbol was clock and party name NCP (Nationalist Congress Party). EC gave me an interim symbol for purpose of one Rajya Sabha election. It is an absurd situation," Singhvi submitted to the SC. "I will have to obey his whip — Ajit Pawar giving whip to Sharad Pawar. It is strange. My friends are making me nameless and symbolless." he said.

The Sharad Pawar faction had on February 12 moved the SC challenging the decision of the EC to recognise Ajit faction as the real NCP. Seeking an urgent hearing by the SC, it challenged the handing over of the clock symbol to Ajit Pawar faction.

The Ajit Pawar faction had filed a caveat on February 7, anticipating that Sharad might move SC against the EC order.

India, EU to deliberate on online disinformation

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

OVER 35 experts from the European Union and India will meet in New Delhi on Wednesday to deliberate on the security and policy aspects of online disinformation and information manipulation.

The EU-India track 1.5 event – 'Combatting disinformation online: EU and Indian perspectives' -- will take place on the sidelines of the Raisina Dialogue. The peer-to-peer discussion will explore trends in the use of disinformation online and encourage EU and Indian governmental and non-governmental actors to compare notes and share best practices about countering disinformation, according to a statement by the EU delegation in India.

The speakers from across EU will include people from European External Action Service, German Federal Ministry of Foreign Affairs, French Embassy in Delhi, and Polish Ministry of Foreign Affairs. From the Indian side, the representatives from agencies, such as India's National Cyber Coordination Centre, and the National Security Council Secretariat of India, will take part.

Experts will deliberate on foreign policy responses to disinformation in both regions, highlight developments in the EU's and India's work to prevent malicious actors.

"In the physical world, Europe might seem far away from Asia but in cyberspace we live together, sometimes in a complex, dangerous cyber neighbourhood where societies depend on resilient trustworthy digital services. We need to combat such challenges and need trusted mutual cooperation," said Seppo Nurmi, deputy head of delegation of EU to India.

India now a global leader, says PM

'For the first time, the country, rather than a follower, is blazing the trail for world to emulate'

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

CLAIMING that God had entrusted him with the responsibility of building the temple of the nation and leading it on the path of grandeur, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Monday said that he was chosen to perform many good works and was committed to completing them.

Addressing a gathering after laying the foundation stone of Shri Kalki Dham Temple at Ainchoda Kamboh village of Sambhal district in western UP, he said, "Just as Acharya Pramod Krishnam, the saints and seers are building a temple here, I too have been entrusted with the responsibility of building the temple of the nation. For the first time, India, rather than being a follower, is blazing the trail for the world to emulate."

The PM also highlighted the achievements of his government, providing a fair description of how the country was well poised between technological advancements and the cultural and spiritual ethos for which India had been known across the world. "We have been taking big strides in the area of innovation, digital advancements, and the IT sector. We are the fifth-largest economy in the world and the first country to reach the south pole of the Moon. Vande Bharat and Namo Bharat trains have started running while a bullet train is in the offing. Every person in the country feels proud today. Now our power is infinite and possibilities immense," said Modi.

Cultural and spiritual ethos

The PM highlighted the achievements of his government, providing a fair description of how the country was well poised between technological advancements and the cultural and spiritual ethos for which India had been known across the world.

Referring to the consecration ceremony of Ram Lalla in Ayodhya as a divine moment after which the country had ushered into an era of change, he said, "The cycle of time is now changing and a new dawn is knocking at our door. This temple, dedicated to the 10th incarnation of Lord Vishnu, Shri Kalki, will decide the road map of thousands of years for country."

"Things beyond imagination are becoming reality now. We have seen the resurrection of Kashi Vishwanath Dham, the Ram temple in Ayodhya, and the restoration of the glory of Mahalok of Mahakaal during this period. Today, on one hand, pilgrimage sites are being developed; on the other, world-class infrastructure is coming up in cities. This change reflects that the wheel of time has turned," the PM pointed out.

Paying tribute to Maratha ruler Shivaji Maharaj on his birth anniversary, the PM spoke about the invasions which the country survived for hundreds of years. "Had it been some other country, it would have been totally destroyed. But, after every attack, we sprouted to stand firm," he said, comparing Indian forbearance with a dormant seed that germinates during the rainy season. He claimed that now the country was moving firmly from defeat to victory.

In a lighter vein, the PM referred to Acharya Krishnam's statement that he had only emotions to offer to the Prime Minister, unlike 'Shabri,' who had fruits to offer to Lord Ram, and 'Vidur,' who had vegetables to offer to Lord Krishna. He said it was a big relief that Acharya was offering him just emotions, as the times had changed so much that today, even Lord Krishna would have been charged with corruption if a video of him receiving a handful of rice from Sudama had gone viral, leading to a PIL in the Supreme Court."

TMC gets NCW, court drubbing over Sandeshkhali

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

ACCUSING Mamata Banerjee's government of stifling voices of women in Sandeshkhali during protests against alleged TMC atrocities, National Commission for Women chairperson Rekha Sharma on Monday demanded imposition of President's Rule in the state.

In a seperate development, the Calcutta High Court allowed Leader of Opposition Suvendu Adhikari to visit the strife-torn area. Adhikari was intercepted twice by cops on his way to Sandeshkhali since the stir, led by women of the area, broke out first week of this month.

"Many women narrated their plights. One of them alleged that she was raped inside the TMC party office in the area. We demand President's Rule be imposed in the state. We will mention in our report to the President," said Sharma, who led a delegation of the commission to the restive area.

Referring to the TMC's allegation that the commission is working under the influence of the BJP, she said, "I don't want to comment on it. Let them say whatever they want to."

Allowing Adhikari to visit Sandeshkhali, the HC ordered the BJP leader not to make any "provocative speeches" during his visit and indulge in any unlawful activities.

Adhikari had approached the HC after he was prevented by the police. The court had also set aside the administration's decision to impose the prohibitory order in Sandeshkhali.

Following the court's order, Adhikari said that he would go to Sandeshkhali on Tuesday.

SC refuses to entertain PIL seeking CBI probe

The Supreme Court on Monday in its order refused to entertain a PIL filed by a lawyer, seeking a court-monitored CBI or SIT probe into Sandeshkhali violence. A 2-judge bench, headed by Justice B V Nagarathna and also comprising Justice Ujjal Bhuyan, said that the Calcutta HC had already taken suo moto cognisance of the matter, hence it refused to pass any order into the PIL.

Congress expels leader after he meets Himanta

The Congress expelled one of its leaders soon after a photo of him with Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma went viral on social media. Without citing any reason, Congress state chief Bhupen Kumar Borah said Dadu Taye had been expelled from the party with immediate effect. It was not known why Taye had gone to meet the CM. Recently, Sarma criticised the Congress for allegedly not allowing its MLAs and leaders to attend government events and meet ministers. He had asked how the constituencies of the Congress MLAs would develop if they were not in a position to highlight the problems.

Training to promote man-elephant coexistence

With an aim to capacitate villagers affected by human-elephant conflict and supplement their income, biodiversity conservation organisation Aaranyak and British Asian Trust conducted training on Assam lemon cultivation and prevention of crop infestation in Dibrugarh district. Thirty-eight villagers underwent the training which focussed mainly on Assam lemon. The villagers received hands-on demonstration on the plantation process. Lemon plants act as a good bio fence when cultivated in a particular pattern.

Prayer is a universal practice: Christian forum

The Assam cabinet's resolution endorsing a bill to ban magical healing practices has met with the Opposition. The Assam Christian Forum said that prayer is a universal practice and labelling it as magical healing oversimplifies the profound spiritual dimensions of faith and life. According to the forum, Article 25 of the Constitution guarantees the right to practice one's chosen religion. Reacting to CM Himanta Biswa Sarma's alleged statement that the "bill is being introduced with the explicit goal of curbing evangelism associated with such practices", the forum said it implicates Christians specifically, but it affects practitioners of all faiths.

Setback to Cong as Raj tribal MLA quits, joins BJP

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

IN a setback to Rajasthan Congress in Rajasthan, senior tribal MLA and former cabinet minister in the Gehlot government Mahendra Jeet Singh Malviya switched over to BJP in Jaipur on Monday. Malviya, a four-time MLA representing Bagidaura in South Rajasthan, who was also appointed a member of the Congress Working Committee (CWC) last year, cited the Congress' refusal to attend the Ram Temple ceremony in Ayodhya last month as the prime reason for his defection.

Now aligning with the BJP, Malviya has sparked speculation within Congress circles that other party leaders may follow suit ahead of the upcoming Lok Sabha elections.

"The Congress party refused to attend the consecration ceremony of the Ram temple, which deeply hurt me. If I am to foster development in my constituency, there's no party better than the BJP to work in tribal areas. Prime Minister Modi's policies have left a lasting impression on me," said Malviya on joining the BJP. Malviya joining BJP is being viewed as a blow to the Congress, given his proximity to former Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot and his stature as a prominent tribal leader in south Rajasthan.

SP offers 17 seats to Cong, sets terms for Akhilesh joining Rahul's yatra

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

UNCERTAINTY looms large over the INDIA alliance of the opposition bloc in Uttar Pradesh, with a seat-sharing pact between the Samajwadi Party and the Congress for the Lok Sabha still being a distant dream. Moreover, SP chief Akhilesh Yadav is reportedly skipping Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Nyay Yatra, saying that he would join Gandhi only after the seat-sharing pact between the two parties gets sealed.

Akhilesh was to join the yatra in Rae Bareli on Tuesday. Earlier on Monday, the SP offered 17 seats to the Congress, calling it the final offer to the grand old party. Notably, the negotiations between the two parties had been going on with Congress initially demanding 25 seats but then scaling it down to 21. However, the SP does not want to spare more than 17 seats for its ally.

Last month, the SP chief unilaterally announced 11 Lok Sabha seats for the Congress in UP. Caught off guard, the baffled leadership of UP Congress said that the seat-sharing talks with the SP were still on and the central leadership would take the final decision.

Later, the SP released the first list of candidates for 16 seats, including many like Lakhimpur Kheri and Farrukhabad, which the Congress had demanded. Meanwhile, on Monday, immediately after offering 17 seats to the Congress, the SP released a second list of 11 party candidates for the polls. It covered at least three seats, which the Congress was demanding.

Dealing a blow to the INDIA bloc in the state, RLD president Jayant Chaudhary recently decided to part ways and switch over to the ruling NDA.

However, the support of the SP in Amethi and Rae Bareli is significant for the Congress as it has been winning both seats over the past few decades, banking upon the former's support. SP and BSP have not been fielding their candidates in Amethi and Rae Bareli in support of the Congress for the last few elections to check the division of votes.

Rahul yatra draws huge crowd in UP, Irani steps up attack on Amethi pitch

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi on his Bharat Jodo Nyay Yatra's UP leg reached his erstwhile traditional constituency of Amethi on Monday, drawing huge crowds. He hit out at the BJP government for "not inviting" the Dalits, backwards and even the President to the Ram temple consecration ceremony in Ayodhya. "It was an insult to them," he said.

"By inviting industrialists and Amitabh Bachchan to the consecration ceremony of the Ram temple, Modi gave the message that the country's 73% of people have no importance," Rahul said addressing a gathering at Lalganj Indira Chowk in Rampur Khas Assembly seat.

Continuing with his onslaught, Gandhi said that it was their (BJP) India. "This is not yours. All you do is chant 'Bharat Mata ki Jai', while all they do is have helicopter rides and make money," he said.

Reiterating the party's promise to provide a legal guarantee of MSP to farmers, he said: "Farmers were stopped from entering Delhi. Modi government has put barricades, and constructed walls to stop farmers. What are they demanding? All they are asking for is MSP; it is not a big thing."

Addressing a function in the evening, Congress chief Mallikarjun Kharge said: "Loans of ₹13 lakh crore of Modiji's friends have been waived while farmers are forced to commit suicide for a loan of ₹12,000 or ₹13,000," he said.

Incidentally, BJP MP Smriti Irani and Rahul Gandhi were present in Amethi on Monday. Rahul's attack prompted the BJP MP from Amethi to challenge the former Congress chief and party's Wayanad MP to contest from Amethi if he had the confidence to win.

The developments seem to suggest that Rahul would contest from Amethi this time.

"In 2019 he (Rahul Gandhi) left Amethi, today Amethi has left him. If he is confident, then without going to Wayanad, let him fight from Amethi alone," said Irani. She tried to underplay Rahul's Naya Yatra by claiming that "empty roads" of Amethi were the testimony of Rahul's popularity.

Holding a Jan Samwad programme in Amethi as part of a four-day visit to her parliamentary constituency, Irani said that despite having won three consecutive elections from Amethi, Rahul Gandhi did very little for the constituency.

"Congress had to call workers from Sultanpur and Pratapgarh to welcome the Yatra," Irani said. "Amethi was distressed to note how its former representative insulted his voters in Wayanad. Also, the invite to consecration of Ram Lalla in Ayodhya was rejected by him and his family. Amethi is dismayed at this also," she said.

The Union Minister also claimed that sensing the mood of the people of Amethi where the voters went for a change in 2019, the Gandhi family decided to stay away from Raebareli ahead of the 2024 polls.

Gujarat spent ₹58 cr on choppers, planes in 2 yrs

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

THE Gujarat government disclosed in the Assembly on Monday that over the past two years, it has expended ₹58 crore on the maintenance, leasing, fuel, and staffing of its state-owned aircraft and helicopters.

Congress MLA Arvind Ladani from Manavdar had inquired about the expenditure incurred by the Gujarat government on maintenance, leasing, fuel, pilots, and other staff for state-owned aircraft and helicopters over the last two years.

The government's written response indicated an expenditure of Rs. 34, 26, 65,295 for maintenance, leasing, fuel, pilots, and other staff for planes and helicopters from January 1, 2021, to December 31, 2022. Additionally, Rs. 24, 24, 55,209 was spent from January 1, 2022, to December 31, 2023, totalling Rs. 58, 51, 20,504 spent on such expenses in just two years.

However, the government opted not to reveal the identity of the company responsible for the maintenance of planes and helicopters, citing the sensitivity of this information due to its association with the highest levels of state security.

Despite the significant investment in government planes, the future of India's first seaplane service, which began for the public, remains uncertain.

On February 13, 2024, the Gujarat government announced that no agency had expressed interest in reviving the seaplane service between the Sabarmati Riverfront in Ahmedabad and the Statue of Unity in Narmada district, despite a tender issued in May of the previous year.

State Civil Aviation Minister Balvant Sinh Rajput reported that as of December 2023, the state had spent Rs 17.5 crore on the now-defunct service. Notably, Prime Minister Narendra Modi launched the seaplane service in October 2020, which was discontinued in April 2021 after he had inaugurated it by travelling from a pond near the Statue of Unity to the Sabarmati Riverfront.

Although a tender was issued in May 2023 to restart the service, no interest was shown in the tendering process, Rajput informed the House.

Congress MLA Tushar Chaudhary highlighted the issue, noting that the plane used by the Prime Minister was nearly 50 years old, remained in service for only two months, and was sent to the Maldives after developing a technical snag. Rajput reassured the House that future seaplanes would be in better condition, addressing concerns over the aircraft's quality and the management of the seaplane service

Ahead of PM's J&K visit, militants list Pandit staff, issue threat via voice note

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

A day ahead of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's daylong visit to J&K, militants issued a threat to Kashmiri Pandit employees, making their details public, and circulated a "voice note" on mobile phones warning such employees to leave the Valley or face consequences.

The PM will address a public rally in Jammu on Tuesday and lay the foundation stone for multiple development projects worth over Rs 30,500 crore. He will also flag off Kashmir's first electric train and inaugurate the 48-km Banihal-Sangaldan railway link.

The PM's public rally at Jammu's Maulana Azad stadium is expected to witness a massive crowd, police sources said.

Meanwhile, a militant outfit circulated a list of about two dozen Pandit employees with their contact numbers in a memo: 'The message to KPs.' Militants have warned of uploading details of more Pandit employees. "They think they are not being watched. They live in fool's paradise," read the message. Kashmiri Pandit Sangarsh Samiti (KPSS) chief Sanjay Tickoo said it was for the first time that details of the Pandit employees were being made public by militants. Terming it a serious security lapse, he questioned how militants got the contact numbers of the employees.

In the voice note, a purported caller claims that the People's Anti-Fascist Front, an offshoot of Jaish-e-Mohammad, has released the list of Pandit employees. The militant group has warned the Pandits, who have resettled in Kashmir in the last few years, to leave the Valley or face consequences. Tickoo said it was for the first time that the Pandits have received threats via "voice notes" on their mobile phones.

Tickoo said he had informed security officials about the threat. Security has already been tightened in areas where the Pandits stay, especially after the recent killing of two workers from Punjab in downtown Srinagar. Security officials have asked the Pandit employees stationed in Valley to be careful while moving out.

The PM's rally in Jammu would boost BJP prospects ahead of the forthcoming parliamentary polls. Multiple-tier security arrangements have been put in place in Jammu and Srinagar for the smooth conduct of the PM's visit. Jammu has been declared a "no drone zone" for tomorrow.

Development projects linked to the PM's visit include several sectors such as health, education, rail, road, aviation, petroleum, civic infrastructure and power.

Development projects linked to the PM's visit include several sectors such as health, education, rail, road, aviation, petroleum, civic infrastructure and power. The PM would inaugurate AIIMS Jammu, and lay the foundation stone for new terminal building of Jammu Airport and a common user facility petroleum depot in Jammu.

IMRAN'S PARTY-BACKED INDEPENDENTS TO JOIN RIGHT-WING SUNNI ITTEHAD COUNCIL

PTI makes "formal agreement" with SIC to be submitted to election commission with request to allocate reserved seats

ISLAMABAD

REVERSING its earlier decision, jailed former prime minister Imran Khan's Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf on Monday said that the party-backed independent candidates, who won the February 8 elections, will join the rightwing Sunni Ittehad Council. The party had earlier decided that its members elected to the National Assembly and the Punjab provincial assembly would join Majlis Wahdat-i-Muslimeen (MWM), a Shia party, while those elected in the Khyber-Pakhtunkhwa (KP) would become part of Jamaati-e-Islami (JI), which is a hardline Sunni religious party.

The Sunni Ittehad Council (SIC) is an alliance of Islamic political and religious parties in the Muslim-majority country which represents followers of the school of Sunni Islam.

"Our candidates in the National Assembly, Punjab and Khyber Pakhtunkhwa assemblies will join the Sunni Ittehad Council," Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf Chairman Barrister Gohar Khan said while addressing a press conference along with leaders of the MWM and SIC.

PTI Secretary General Omar Ayub Khan, Information Secretary Rauf Hasan and MWM chief Allama Raja Nasir Abbas and Chairman of SIC Sahibzada Hamid Raza were present."Our candidates have submitted their affidavits with us and with their consent today we are announcing that PTI-supported independents are joining the Sunni Ittehad Council,' he added.

The winning independent candidates had to join a party within 3 days after the notification of the results of the February 8 elections. Gohar also said the PTI made a "formal agreement" with the Sunni Ittehad Council and the same would be submitted to the Election Commission of Pakistan (ECP) with a request to allocate the reserved seats according to the party strength and under law.

"To protect our reserved seats and provide the cover to our members, we have reached a formal agreement under which all our candidates have joined the party and we will present this documentation before the ECP," he said.

"The quota of reserved seats lies with political parties. Coming together with the Sunni Ittehad Council would increase the PTI's strength in the National Assembly,' Omar said, adding that the party would form a government in the centre and two provinces.

He said the priority of the party was to secure the release of incarcerated leaders like Imran Khan, his wife Bushra Bibi, Shah Mahmood Qureshi, Parvez Elahi and others.

SIC chief Raza and MWM leader Abbas in their remarks pledged support to the PTI.

With the PTI's decision to join a party, which is registered with the ECP, the country moved a step forward to the convening of the National Assembly or the lower house, for its maiden session which should be held by February 29.

Khan's beleaguered party received a major boost on Saturday when a senior government official in charge of the election process in the garrison city of Rawalpindi alleged that rigging took place and dragged the Chief Election Commissioner and the Chief Justice into it. Buoyed by the allegations of vote rigging, the PTI on Sunday demanded a judicial probe into the manipulation of the results of the elections. PTI

China asks Pakistan's political parties to work together

Beijing: China on Monday urged Pakistan's polarised political parties to work together to uphold "political solidarity and social stability" as they struggled to form a coalition government following a fractured mandate in the elections. Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesperson Mao Ning said, 'As a close and friendly neighbour, China fully respects the choices of Pakistani people and sincerely hopes that relevant parties of Pakistan will work together to uphold political solidarity and social stability after the elections,' she said.

PPP says it rejected power-sharing offered by PML-N

KARACHI

PAKISTAN Peoples Party Chairman has revealed that he said "No" to a power-sharing formula in which the prime minister's post would be shared between his and former premier Nawaz Sharif's parties, as he did not want to take up the top post without the people's mandate.

The 35-year-old former foreign minister was the prime ministerial face of the PPP. However, in the February 8 elections, his party came third with 54 seats in the National Assembly, behind more than 90 seats won by independents backed by jailed prime minister Imran Khan's Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) and Nawaz Sharif's Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N).

Addressing a Yaum-i-Tashakur (Thanksgiving Day) rally in Thatta to celebrate the PPP's election victory in Sindh province, Bilawal said, 'I was told [by PML-N] that let us be the prime minister for three years and then you can take the premiership for the remaining two years.' 'I said no to this. If I become the prime minister, it would be after the people of Pakistan elect me.'

PPP chairman Bilawal Bhutto Zardari | AFP

Reacting to Bilawal's comments, PML-N leader Ishaq Dar stressed that it was not appropriate to divulge details about talks between the parties vying to form the next government. He insisted that the PPP chairman had made the time-sharing formula public but 'that was just one aspect and there can be more formulas'.

Dar said the plan to form a government with the PPP and Muttahida Qaumi Movement ' Pakistan (MQM-P) was 'still on' as he pointed out that there was no other choice available to them."We are working towards consensus on critical issues," Dar affirmed. PTI

Pak high court suspends election result of 3 constituencies

ISLAMABAD

A Pakistan high court on Monday suspended the result of three constituencies in the federal capital after the success of the three candidates was challenged. The three losing candidates including Amir Mughal, Shoaib Shaheen and Mohammad Ali Bukhari, who were backed by Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf of jailed former prime minister Imran Khan, had petitioned in the Islamabad High Court, alleging manipulation of the results. The IHC after hearing the case suspended poll result notifications issued by the Election Commission of Pakistan (ECP) from NA-46, NA-47 and NA-48, putting on hold the success of Anjum Aqeel Khan, Tariq Fazal Chaudhry and Raja Khurram Nawaz who had won respectively on the three seats. Earlier, they challenged the election results before the ECP on February 10 and the commission issued a status quo order. PTI

Palestinians accuse Israel of 'apartheid' at UN top court

THE HAGUE

PALESTINIAN foreign minister Riyad Al-Maliki told the UN's top court Monday his people were suffering "colonialism and apartheid" under the Israelis, urging judges to order an immediate and unconditional end to the occupation.

The remarks came at historic hearings into the legality of Israel's 57-year occupation. The case opened against the backdrop of the Israel-Hamas war, which immediately became a focal point of the day ' even though the hearings were meant to centre on Israel's open-ended control over the occupied West Bank, the Gaza Strip and annexed east Jerusalem.

"The Palestinians have endured colonialism and apartheid... There are those who are enraged by these words. They should be enraged by the reality we are suffering," Al-Maliki told the International Court of Justice (ICJ).

The ICJ is holding hearings all week on the legal implications of Israel's occupation since 1967, with an unprecedented 52 countries, including the United States and Russia, expected to give evidence.

Speaking in the Peace Palace in The Hague, where the ICJ sits, the minister urged judges to declare the occupation illegal and order it to stop "immediately, totally and unconditionally." "Justice delayed is justice denied and the Palestinian people have been denied justice for far too long," he said.

"It is time to put an end to the double standards that have kept our people captive for far too long." Agencies

Israel to fight during Ramadan unless Hamas frees hostages

Gaza Strip: Deadly fighting raged on in Gaza on Monday after Israel warned that, unless Hamas frees all hostages, it will push on with its offensive during the Muslim holy month of Ramadan, including in the far-southern Rafah area. Gantz, a former military chief of staff, said, "Hamas has a choice. They can surrender, release the hostages, and the civilians of Gaza can celebrate the feast of Ramadan."

'Brazil's Lula is persona non grata for Holocaust remarks'

JERUSALEM:

Brazil's President Luiz Inacio Lula Da Silva is not welcome in Israel until he apologises for comparing its ongoing war against Hamas to the Holocaust, Israel's foreign minister said Monday. Lula's remarks on Sunday sparked outcry in Israel after the Brazilian leader said the ongoing conflict in the Gaza Strip "isn't a war, it's a genocide" and compared it to "when Hitler decided to kill the Jews". Strike at Eiffel Tower in Paris disrupts visits

Paris: Visits to the Eiffel Tower were disrupted on Monday because of a strike over poor financial management of the monument, which is one of the world's most-visited sites. The hugely popular 300-metre (984-foot) landmark in central Paris has seen soaring visitor numbers in the lead up to the Summer Olympics in the French capital. Tourists planning to visit the Eiffel Tower on Monday were warned of disruptions in multiple languages on the monument's website. They advised visitors to check the website before heading to the monument or to postpone their visit. Stephane Dieu of the CGT union, which represents a large number of the Eiffel Tower's employees, said Monday's strike is aimed at a salary increase in proportion to the incoming revenue from ticket sales and improved maintenance of the monument, which is owned by the Paris municipality. Alexei Navalny's widow Yulia Navalnaya (R) meets with Belgium's Foreign Minister Hadja Lahbib on the sidelines of a EU meet in Brussels, Belgium | AFP

Navalny's widow vows to continue his work for 'freedom' in Russia

WARSAW

ALEXEI Navalny's widow Yulia Navalnaya on Monday accused President Vladimir Putin of killing her husband and vowed to continue his work, three days after he died in a Russian Arctic prison.

Her video address came as the Kremlin said an investigation into his death was "ongoing" and his mother Lyudmila was denied access to his body for a third day. "Three days ago, Vladimir Putin killed my husband Alexei Navalny," Navalnaya said in a video address on Navalny's YouTube channel. "Alexei died in a prison colony after three years of torment and torture," she said.

Her address came shortly before she was due to meet EU foreign ministers. "I will continue the work of Alexei Navalny. I will continue to fight for the freedom of our country. And I call on you to stand by me," Navalnaya said."Putin took from me the most valuable thing that I had, the closest and most loved person. But Putin also took Navalny from you," the 47-year-old said.

Navalnaya stood by her husband as he galvanised mass protests in Russia, flying him out of the country when he was poisoned before defiantly returning to Moscow with him in 2021, knowing he would be jailed.

The announcement she will replace Navalny is a momentous and unpredictable turn for Russia's exiled and beleaguered opposition, which has been left leaderless after Navalny's death. It comes just one month ahead of a presidential election in Russia, with Putin running with no real challengers. AFP

UK govt orders complete ban on mobile phones in schools

LONDON

IN a bid to improve students' behaviour and attention, the UK government has decided to ban the use of mobile phones in schools across England. According to the new government guidance issued on Monday, head teachers will monitor and ensure phones are not used in schools. The new guidelines call for complete ban of mobile phone usage during school hours, including at break times.

Noting that many schools are already not allowing mobile phone use, the government said the new guidance will ensure there is a consistent approach across all schools. The different approaches to implementing the ban will include banning phones from the school premises, handing in phones on arrival at school, and keeping phones securely locked away at school.

"Schools are places for children to learn and mobile phones are, at a minimum, an unwanted distraction in the classroom," said UK Education Secretary Gillian Keegan. "We are giving our hard-working teachers the tools to take action to help improve behaviour and to allow them to do what they do best – teach," she said.

According to data from UK media watchdog Office of Communications, 97% of children have their own mobile phone by the age of 12. Using mobile phones in schools can lead to online bullying, distraction and classroom disruption which, in turn, can lead to lost learning time, the Department for Education noted.

"Growing up in today's digital world provides immense opportunities but this should not come at the expense of our children's wellbeing or education," said UK Technology Secretary Michelle Donelan. "Today's announcement will support parents and educators further, helping give the next generation the best chance to realise their potential," she added.

The latest move will bring England in line with steps taken by other European countries that have restricted mobile phone use, such as France, Italy and Portugal. Agencies

MONGOLIAN HELD DURING SMUGGLING ATTEMPT

A Mongolian man was arrested at Thailand's main airport for allegedly trying to smuggle komodo dragons, pythons, tortoises and 24 live fish out of the country, authorities said on Monday. The man was nabbed after officials searched luggage he had checked for a flight from Bangkok's Suvarnabhumi airport to Mongolia's capital Ulaanbaatar. The search revealed two komodo dragons, six Indian star tortoises, eight iguanas, five pythons, one boa constrictor and 24 live fish. Thailand is a major transit hub for wildlife smugglers, who often sell the animals on to China and Vietnam.

USE OF LOW-CARBON JET FUEL FROM 2026

Aviation hub Singapore will require airlines departing from the city-state to use sustainable aviation fuel (SAF) from 2026 as part of industry plans to cut carbon emissions. But as the fuel is three to five times more expensive than conventional jet fuel, authorities will introduce a levy on tickets to help cushion costs, Chee Hong Tat told an aviation summit.

JOKOWI'S SECRET PARLEYS

Indonesian President Joko 'Jokowi' Widodo on Monday sought to play down speculation about his private meeting with media mogul Surya Paloh, chairman of the National Democratic Party (Nasdem), on Sunday, saying there is nothing wrong in such meetings. Jokowi had met Paloh in a rare encounter, triggering speculation that the Nasdem might be contemplating a return to the pro-government coalition. President Jokowi is under fire for demonstrating an apparent bias for Defense Minister Prabowo Subianto, who is said to be leading in the presidential race.

Kotak Mahindra Bank rejigs mgmt; appoints joint MD

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Chennai

KOTAK Mahindra Bank on Monday made a few significant senior management appointments including naming Chief Finance Officer and Chief Operations Officer and expanding the responsibilities of personnel in the bank to group as whole.

The company's whole-time director KVS Manian has been appointed as Joint Managing Director with effect from March 1, 2024. He will focus on Wholesale Bank, Commercial Bank, Private Banking, Asset Reconstruction Division and Wholesale Credit, the bank said in a statement. He will also continue to have oversight over the Institutional Equities and Investment Banking businesses of the Group.

Shanti Ekambaram has been appointed as Deputy Managing Director starting from March 1. She will focus on the growth of 811, Treasury and Global Markets businesses. In addition, she will oversee the functions of Human Resources, Group Marketing and Corporate Communications, Internal Vigilance, Internal Audit administrative matters, Public Affairs, Corporate Social Responsibility and ESG. She will also continue to have oversight over Kotak Mahindra Financial Services Limited and Kotak Karma subsidiaries.

Both Manian and Shanti have demonstrated a tremendous track record of building successful and purposeful businesses over their long association with the Group, Kotak said. Devang Gheewalla will succeed Jaimin Bhatt as the Group Chief Financial Officer with effect from April 1. Jaimin Bhatt, Kotak Group's current Group Chief Financial Officer superannates by the end of next month.

The company has elevated Milind Nagnur as Chief Operating Officer of the bank. He will continue to be the bank's Chief Technology Officer and will take additional responsibility for bank operations, Group Technology Architecture and Cyber Security functions.

In his new role, he will be responsible for building the critical enablers that will fuel our aspirations for scale, the bank noted.

SC orders SpiceJet to clear dues to Credit Suisse

The apex court has asked low-cost airline to settle dues by 15 March

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday took notice of SpiceJet chairman and managing director (CMD) Ajay Singh's bid for grounded carrier - Go First - and said that while the businessman is not clearing the dues of Credit Suisse he has enough resources to acquire an airline.

The apex court came down heavily on Singh for not clearing its dues to the Swiss creditor in the stipulated timeline and ordered to settle all pending payments by 15 March.

"Why don't we take judicial notice of the newspaper reports that you're planning to take GoAir (Go First)? You have that much cushion and you won't repay?" said a bench of Justices Hima Kohli and Ahsanuddin Amanullah.

This observation by the bench comes as Singh and EaseMyTrip CEO Nishant Pitti-backed Busy Bee Airways on Friday submitted a joint bid for Go First which is undergoing an insolvency process. The Court has also directed Spicejet to pay $1.25 million to Credit Suisse, along with monthly instalments. Additionally, Singh has been summoned to appear before the court on 22 March.

"We're giving you a long rope, don't take any risks in this matter...There is no scope for any belated payment in this case," added the bench. In the ongoing dispute between SpiceJet and Credit Suisse, the top Court in September 2023 had ordered the low-cost airline to make payments to Credit Suisse of $1 million per month for six months to clear arrears. Following this, Singh and his SpiceJet are required to pay regular instalments of $500,000 to Credit Suisse. The legal dispute between the two parties started when Credit Suisse dragged SpiceJet to the Madras High Court in 2021 after the airline failed to make payments of over $24 million to maintenance, repair and overhauling (MRO) service provider SR Technics. Credit Suisse had a financing agreement with SR Technics that gave it the right to receive payments from the airline.

SpiceJet on Friday said that it is currently in the midst of a revival plan, having completed the first tranche of capital infusion amounting to ₹744 crore, with additional subscriptions pending regulatory approval. The company has also initiated the process to raise an additional ₹1,000 crore. The airline added that it already holds valid shareholder approval to raise up to ₹2500 crore through QIP, eliminating the need for further shareholder approval.

IBC resolves 891 cases involving ₹10 lakh crore loan defaults till Dec

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC) has resolved 891 cases of defaults involving banks loans worth ₹10 lakh crore till December 2023. The resolution of these cases led to the recovery of ₹ 3.2 lakh crore, or 32% of the total admitted claims by banks and financial institutions. During the same time 2,376 defaulting companies were ordered to be liquidated.

Under IBC, resolution means acquisition of an insolvent company by another as a going concern. In case when, the resolution process fails to find a buyer for the company it is liquidated where assets of the company are sold to recover money by the creditors.

79 CASES IN Q3
As many as 79 corporate insolvency cases were resolved in the December quarter with creditors recovering 26% of the total admitted claims, according to the quarterly report.

While the recovery rate under IBC is poor when compared to the total admitted claims of the banks, experts have pointed out that the new insolvency regime has instilled fear among willful defaulters, resulting in thousands of cases being resolved even before reaching the NCLT. According to IBBI's (Insolvency and Bankruptcy Board of India) quarterly report, 27,500 applications for initiation of corporate insolvency resolution process against companies involving defaults of ₹9.74 lakh crore were withdrawn before admission. As many as 79 corporate insolvency cases were resolved in the December quarter with creditors recovering 26% of the total admitted claims. The 79 cases that saw resolution during the quarter involved ₹16,517 crore of default, out of which the lenders could recover ₹4,300 crore. The total fair value of these companies was ₹5,735 crore, while the liquidation value of these companies was ₹3,330 crore. The large cases that saw resolution during the quarter include Mittal Corp (involving ₹1,767 crore default) and AMW Autocomponent (₹1,663 crore). Mittal Corp was acquired by Shyam Sel and Power Limited, which offered ₹350 crore to the creditors of the company.

Vi upgrades its network capacity in Kerala, K'taka, Punjab, Haryana

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

TELECOM operator Vodafone Idea Limited (Vi) has upgraded its network capacity across four key markets: Kerala, Karnataka, Punjab, and Haryana. The telco said this increased capacity will provide more than 3 crore Vi customers in these circles with a superior network experience and faster speeds as they adopt digital services for work, study, socialising, and entertainment. Notably, Vi has shut down its 3G network in Kerala and Punjab.

"Our commitment to offering unparalleled connectivity solutions and an exceptional customer experience to our valued customers places us at the forefront of digital India," said Jagbir Singh, CTO, Vodafone Idea.

"The network upgrade across these four circles is a testament to our ongoing nationwide efforts to further empower our customers by unlocking the infinite benefits of the digital highway. With this development, we aim to address the growing digital needs of our customers, ensuring robust connectivity, faster data speeds, overall improved performance, and strengthening customer delight," he added. In Punjab, Vi upgraded 4G spectrum bandwidth in LTE 2500 from 10MHz to 20MHz across over 1,200 sites. Vi is refarming 4G to enhance LTE 2100 from 5MHz to 10MHz and LTE 1800 from 10MHz to 15MHz.

ONGC expects to produce 5 MMtoe from ongoing new projects

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE state-owned Oil and Natural Gas Corporation (ONGC) expects to produce 5 MMtoe (million tons of oil and oil equivalent) in the next few years from its ongoing new projects across the country.

The company expects the majority of this production to come from the 98/2 field, estimated to contribute around 4 MM toe. Additionally, the Daman Upside project is projected to yield around 1.5 MMtoe. Furthermore, the CBM (coal bed methane) project in Jharia and Bokaro is anticipated to add around 0.5 MMtoe to the total output.

"Moving forward in the next three years, we expect to produce around 5 million metric tons of oil and oil equivalent from these new projects," the company said in an investor call.

"The major chunk will be coming from the 98/2 field at around 4 MMtoe, followed by Daman Upside at around 1.5 MMtoe. Additionally, the CBM project in Jharia and Bokaro is expected to contribute around 0.5 MM toe."

'Engaging with govt regarding windfall tax'

In January 2024, the state-owned Oil and Natural Gas Corporation successfully commenced First Oil production from its deep-water KG-DWN-98/2 Block, located off the coast of the Bay of Bengal. The company also mentioned that it is engaging with the government regarding the SEAD, or windfall tax. "We will be continuing to engage with the government regarding the applicability of SAED and hopefully obtain a positive outcome," the company said.

The total capital expenditure (CapEx) for these ongoing projects is estimated to be around ₹60,000 crore over the next two to three years. These projects are expected to generate a lifecycle gain of around 80 million metric tons of oil equivalent.

In January 2024, ONGC successfully commenced First Oil production from its deep-water KG-DWN-98/2 Block, located off the coast of the Bay of Bengal. The ONGC reported a net profit, or profit after tax, of ₹9,536 crore for the third quarter (Q3) of FY24.

This represents a decrease of ₹1,509 crore, or 13.796%, compared to ₹11,045 crore earned in Q3 of FY23.

The reason for the low profit was on account of lower sales revenue, mainly due to lower crude oil, natural gas production, and VAP price realisations and the provisions of GST on royalty.

The company also mentioned that it is engaging with the government regarding the SEAD, or windfall tax.

Govt increases outlay to ₹708 cr for rubber sector

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

THE Ministry of Commerce and Industry on Monday announced the increase in total outlay for the natural rubber sector to ₹ 708.69 crore, marking a 23% increase from previous allocations under the 'Sustainable & Inclusive Development of Natural Rubber Sector' programme. The plan includes enhanced support for planting activities in both traditional and non-traditional areas for the next two years 2024-25 and 2025-26.

"To support the rubber industry, planting of rubber will be undertaken in 12,000 ha in traditional areas during 2024-25 and 2025-26 with an outlay of ₹ 43.50 crore. For this, the rate of assistance has been increased to ₹40,000 per ha from the earlier ₹25,000 per ha," the release said.

"This will help to cover the increased cost of production as well as provide additional incentive to growers for planting rubber. 3752 ha will be brought under rubber cultivation in non-traditional regions with an outlay of ₹18.76 crore during the same period," it added.

In addition, the Rubber Board will supply planting materials worth ₹50,000 per ha.

This will be over and above the plantation being carried out under the INROAD project in the North East. Planting assistance at ₹2,00,000 per ha will be provided for SC growers in non-traditional regions.

Sponsored nurseries will be promoted by the Board in non-traditional areas for generating good quality planting material (new component).

Assistance will be provided at ₹2,50,000 to 20 such nurseries.

Income Tax department to waive old tax demands up to ₹1 lakh for taxpayers

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

THE Income Tax (IT) department will waive off old tax demand up to ₹1 lakh for any taxpayer under the income tax act or wealth tax act or gift tax act, its notification said.

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in her interim-budget speech had announced the withdrawal of petty tax demands of ₹10,000 a year upto assessment year (AY) 2009-10 and each demand of ₹25,000 during AY 2011-12 and AY 2015-16.

This order shall be implemented by the Directorate of Income Tax(Systems)/Centralised processing centre, preferably within two months.

It is to be noted that the remission and extinguishment of such entries of outstanding direct tax demands shall not be applicable on the demands raised against the tax deductors or tax collectors under TDS or TCS provisions of the income tax act. Further, in order to compute the aforesaid maximum ceiling of ₹100,000 for any specific taxpayer or assessee. "Consequent to the aforesaid remission and extinguishment of entries of outstanding demand, there shall not be requirement of calculation of interest on account of delay in payment of demand under sub-section (2) of section 220 of the income tax act, 1961 or corresponding provisions of wealth tax act, 1957 and gift tax act, 1958 and therefore, the same shall not be considered for the purpose of determining the ceiling of ₹100,000," the notification said. Also, if any tax liability arises against such a taxpayer as a result of application of section 24 of section 2 of the IT act, the same shall be remitted and extinguished. Section 24 of the IT act allows homeowners to claim a deduction on their home loan interest. The notification also clarified that if a taxpayer's outstanding dues are forgiven, they cannot use this as a basis to claim a credit or refund under tax laws.

Additionally, any forgiveness of dues will not impact ongoing or potential criminal cases against the taxpayer.

Forgiveness of dues to not impact ongoing cases

The notification said that any forgiveness of dues will not impact ongoing or potential criminal cases against the taxpayer, and does not automatically provide any special benefits or immunity in those legal proceedings beyond what is stated in the forgiveness order.

TVS Mobility forms JV with Mitsubishi Corp for vehicle service ecosystem

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Chennai

CHENNAI-based auto component and after-sale distribution chain TVS Mobility has announced a joint venture with Japan-based conglomerate Mitsubishi Corporation (MC) to establish a complete vehicle service ecosystem.

MC will initially invest ₹300 crore with the investment intended to spur growth in vehicle ownership in Passenger Cars, Commercial Vehicles and Material Handling Equipment (MHE). The deal is subject to regulatory approval.

With this, the dealership business of TVS Mobility will change into TVS Vehicle Mobility Solution (TVS VMS) offering a complete portfolio. "TVS Mobility, had pioneered the sales, service and distribution of vehicles market through its dealership business in India. This collaboration with MC will enable TVS to provide a range of solutions to the entire vehicle mobility ecosystem." said R Dinesh, Director of TVS Mobility. This will focus on enterprises, corporates or fleet owners and expand our partnership with vehicle manufacturers to provide integrated solutions across vehicle sales, operating of vehicles and 'Vehicle-as-a-Service', he added.

TVS Mobility Group is the holding company for the businesses managed by the T S Rajam family members. It is demerged from T V Sundram Iyengar and Sons Private Limited. Group's business has a combined annual revenue of around $3 billion including manufacturing of tyres and components, platform for parts distribution and services in the aftermarket and auto retail.

The business model will have the potential to achieve $2 billion revenue in the next 3-5 years' time, TVS Mobility said in a statement.

Investment in TVS VMS widens MC's investment coverage through enhanced service capabilities and covers not only after-sales services and multi-brand sales, but also vehicle-as-a-service models, said Shigeru Wakabayashi, CEO of Automotive and Mobility Group at Mitsubishi Corporation.

IT spending: Firms see increased budget in Q1'24

UMA KANNAN @Bengaluru

Globally, for the past 12 months, IT budgets have been increasing, and in India too budgets are accelerating with India respondents reporting 92%, the highest overall budget increase and highest percentage reporting at 29%.

JumpCloud in the findings from Q1 2024 small to medium-sized enterprise (SME) IT Trends report reveals that IT admins are more optimistic about IT spending than six months ago as 80% expect IT budgets to increase in 2024 compared to 63.5% in Q2 2023. About 92% of India respondents expect budgets to increase either slightly or significantly, which is above the global average of 80%. Also, 61% of India respondents cite security as their biggest challenge and this is higher than the global average of 41%. Greg Keller, CTO JumpCloud said, "Companies in India are fast-moving and agile. They are seeking platform-based device and identity management solutions that scale to match their growth ambitions while also helping to meet emerging compliance and security challenges." The report also adds that India SMEs have to navigate turbulent economic realities with the highest number of layoffs about 78% compared to the global average of 57%.

Companies in India are fast-moving and agile. They are seeking platform-based device and identity management solutions that scale to match their growth ambitions.

Greg Keller, CTO, JumpCloud

Interestingly, only 9% of India respondents had experienced no layoffs and were anticipating no future layoffs. Organisations across the world are increasing their Artificial Intelligence (AI) adoption.

In India, planned AI adoption has increased to 96% for India respondents, with 31% planning to adopt AI in the next six months and 38% in the next 7-12 months.

Anush fetches India's Paris Oly quota in equestrian

Asian Games medallist Anush Agarwalla has secured a Paris Olympics quota for the country in dressage, the Equestrian Federation of India (EFI) said. He was allotted the quota on the basis of his performance in four FEI events — Wroclaw, Poland (73.485%), Kronenberg, Netherlands (74.4%), Frankfurt, Germany (72.9%) and Mechelen, Belgium (74.2%).

That 90s show featuring Gill

From being anointed batting prodigy, the batter has transformed into India's new Test No. 3

GOMESH S @ Rajkot

THE Gabba. India vs Australia, post-lunch session on day five. Shubman Gill takes guard against Mitchell Starc with Cheteshwar Pujara for company. The scorecard reads 85/1 after 39 overs. India still need 243 runs to breach the fortress that is Gabba. To be honest, going after the target was in neither batter's mind. That is when Gill kicked off something. The menacing left-arm pacer ran in, delivered a short-pitched delivery — blink and it was sent to the midwicket boundary with an authoritative pull. It was a wake up call for everyone hoping that India survive the day's play.

In Starc's next over, Pujara showed a glimpse of his upper cut, but the movie began another over later. Gill, all but 21, pulled Starc into the stands. And then, unleashed his upper cut, before swivelling and pulling along the ground for another four — 15 runs (including a no ball) in three balls. Although Rishabh Pant's madness was showcased in Sydney, this takedown of Starc from Gill put him in the front and centre of the anointed batting prodigies. He fell nine short of a century, but Rishabh pulled off a heist to secure a historic victory.

That 91 against Australia in Brisbane when the chips were down made Gill the promised prince of Indian batting.

February 17, 2024. Rajkot. India vs England, post Tea session, day three. Three years had passed since the epic Test knock and victory in Gabba. In this time, Gill had sealed his spot in the 50-over format, smashed an ODI double and had a stellar year as an ODI opener in 2023. And it is because of his success in white-ball, the prolonged lull in the format where he made his mark went under the radar.

In the lead-up to the India-England series, there were questions over Gill's consistency in the longest format. Since the Brisbane Test, he had played 17 matches with 781 runs to show for at an average of 26.93; four 50-plus scores in 31 innings. Yashasvi Jaiswal had taken up his spot, but knowing the talent he had, the team management had given Gill a rope at No. 3 — a position that was filled by a long lineage of stalwarts.

However, a twin failure in Hyderabad meant Gill was one bad match away from being dropped. What was going for him was that Virat Kohli was unavailable, KL Rahul was injured and the team management did not want to go back to the senior pros again. In what could well have been his last innings before being dropped, Gill scored a century at Visakhapatnam.

However, another disappointing dismissal continued in the first innings of the third Test. A pattern was emerging. It seemed like his trouble against incoming deliveries continued as Gill went fishing for one that held its line and got out for a nine ball duck.

On day three, Gill was in the middle again. India had secured a 126-run lead and Jaiswal was still there. The job, for Gill and the left-hander, was to extend the lead. The 24-year-old, since his dismissal on day one, had been spending as much time as possible in the nets with batting coach Vikram Rathour and head coach Rahul Dravid to iron out the technical flaws. Even in the morning on Day 2, the three were in the nets adjacent to the stands of Niranjan Shah Stadium. And it showed when he took guard first against Mark Wood and then, James Anderson.

Both Wood and Anderson persisted with the good length and deliveries that were coming into the right-hander while holding the line at times. This time, Gill, however, was getting into good positions, defending the ball under his eye. Unless it was too full or too short, Gill was happy to defend or play it around, especially against the pacers. When it came to spinners, the 24-year-old was at ease, taking on Joe Root, Rehan Ahmed and Tom Hartley as and when possible. And even as Jaiswal was running away with his third Test century, he played at his own pace, was not troubled like he was in Vizag.

Just when it seemed like Gill, too, would follow Jaiswal and score consecutive centuries, the former got run out for 91. The milestone was missed, but it was the kind of innings that would have given him a lot of satisfaction. For he did not give any chances, held his ground, and played to a plan, which worked out well for him, and India.

If that 91 in Brisbane brought him into limelight, the one in Rajkot would do a world of good for Gill's confidence as a Test batter. For Gill is no more a batting prodigy breaking through; he is India's new Test No. 3.

CRAWLEY, STOKES AND UMPIRE'S CALL - EXPLAINED

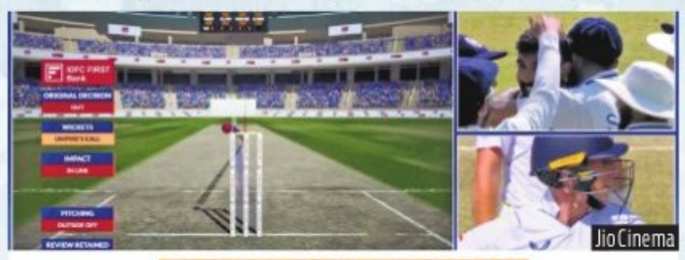
With England captain Ben Stokes calling for the 'umpire's call' to be scrapped, a look at what happened with Zak Crawley's dismissal and the reasoning behind it....

WHAT HAPPENED?

On the 2nd ball of the 9th over, Jasprit Bumrah pitched a good length delivery on fifth stump, which moved into Zak Crawley, and hit him on knee roll of the front pad. India appealed, umpire gave out. Batter sent the decision upstairs. The hawk-eye projections showed that the ball pitched outside off-stump, hit him in line before the verdict on hitting stumps coming as umpire's call.

THE AFTERMATH

After the match, Stokes and coach Brendon McCullum took the Crawley dismissal to match referee. While talking to reporters, Stokes said, "The ball is quite clearly missing the stump on the replay. So when it gets given umpire's call and the ball's not actually hitting the stumps, we were a bit bemused. So we just wanted some clarity from the hawk eye guys. It came back saying the numbers, or whatever it is that is, it was saying that it was hitting the stumps but it was the projection that was wrong."



THE SIGNIFICANCE OF UMPIRE'S CALL

As it has been established over the years, what hawk eye technology shows is a projection of an event that did not happen. Which is why, despite the minuscule margin of errors, when it comes to marginal decisions, the human element takes precedence. According to the data collected by Kishan Bharadwaj S, a data scientist, between January 2017 and January 2021, India have been on the wrong end of 36 umpire's call decisions. England (30) are second in the list. When it comes to batters, Virat Kohli had 80 per cent umpire's call decisions going against him while Stokes had 86 per cent going in his favour.

WHAT IS UMPIRE'S CALL?

When it is the line of pitching, there is no element of umpire's call. If the centre of the ball is outside the line, it's pitched outside. For impact or the wickets, when the centre of the ball is outside the designated zone, then the bowling-end umpire's decision takes precedence. When it comes to hitting the stumps, according to the ICC WTC 2023-25 Playing conditions if the centre of the ball is missing while some part of it is still hitting the 'Wicket Zone', then the on-field decision takes precedence.

THE BIG CONUNDRUM

Speaking to Talksport (a UK based sports radio station) after the match, Stokes, while acknowledging that he is not pinning the result to marginal decisions, said: "The umpires have an incredibly hard job as it is, especially in India when the ball is spinning. My personal opinion is if the ball is hitting the stumps, it is hitting the stumps. They should take away 'umpire's call' if I'm being perfectly honest."

Will see... we are at God's mercy, says Jyoti's father

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Rourkela

Jyoti Chhetri's parents in front of their house in Rourkela, Odisha | EXPRESS

ODISHA international, Jyoti Chhetri, is facing a fight to save her house from a road-widening project. As part of a newly commissioned flyover next to the Chhend locality in Rourkela, the narrow lane her house sits in on the confluence of three Rivers -- opposite the main sports hostel in Panposh -- is set to be widened in the next year or so.

Keeping this in mind, local government authorities had gone to her house a few years ago to inform them about the project. To date, the government hasn't promised them alternate accommodation.

Bhim Singh, Jyoti's father who had worked as a watchman at the hostel before becoming a mason, picks up the story. "They (the government) told us verbally," he says after taking part in a puja in a Shiva temple in the same street on Sunday. "Some 8-10 people came to our house to take measurements and informed us that they will demolish the house. They were people from the government and came around two years ago. They told us that demolition will be done by 2025-26.

"They are constructing a flyover which will go above the railway line," he says. "As a part of the project, they want to widen the road and because of that, our house as well as others around will be demolished. The house will be gone, we will have to find some other place to stay. Let's see if the government compensates us in any way. We haven't seen any other place to shift yet. It's a conundrum, if suddenly someone says your house will be demolished. What will you do? I have spent my life here with my entire family. It's painful."

A bit of background.

Chhetri, part of the senior women's hockey team that featured in the Pro League over the last two weeks in Bhubaneswar and Rourkela, was born inside the hostel in Rourkela in 2003.

Before long, as the family's small living quarters inside had become cramped, they moved out. On the advice of hostel authorities, they resettled in an empty space right opposite the hostel.

Bhim worked on it to make it liveable for the family of five, including his only daughter and two of her siblings. Now, that almost two-decade blood and toil of the family is facing grave danger.

Jyoti, who was part of the Indian team that had won silver in the inaugural edition of the Hockey 5s World Cup in January, had even met the Additional District Magistrate (ADM) of the area to make her case. "I had spoken to the ADM," she said after India's Pro League win over the US via a shoot-out late on Sunday night. "They assured me they will do something but nothing has happened till now. I do not know what it is but I did whatever I could to seek some support. I met them six or seven months ago." While they have submitted official documents to the government — they (government) asked us for our Aadhar cards and other documents but there has been no response yet — the family do not have a document on them that proves they own the land.

Jyoti, who broke through to the senior national team after several eye-catching performances at various age-group events (she is a Junior Asia Cup winner), thinks that only hockey can solve her problems. "If I do well in hockey and continue playing in the future, then I may get some financial support or win prize money. With that, I can support my family. I am working very hard for it and I know that I will be able to resolve the problem only through hockey. Many players live their dreams. But I play for my family's dreams." Only after Jyoti started progressing through the ranks was her family even able to paint the exteriors (some parts of it are still bricks and mortar).

Bhim is mindful of the extra pressure his daughter faces but he doesn't want her to feel it. "Jyoti was born inside the hostel," Bhim, who had originally come to Rourkela in the late 1980s, says. "We are worried about what will happen but have told Jyoti to play without pressure, without thinking about any of this. We hope she will progress. About the house, what can I say?" Considering they don't have the resources to resettle elsewhere, they are facing the prospect of an uncertain future if the government doesn't give them alternate accommodation. Bhim and Seema (her mother), who have decorated the walls of the house with Jyoti's medals, photos and lanyards of the different international events she has competed in, are prepared to move into an 'alternate accommodation'. "Why should we fight the government," he asks. "If the place is to be vacated, it will be done. If the government helps us with alternate accommodation, we will settle there." Seema, though, has already given up hope. "Jyoti went to the ADM for help," she says. "But they said it was not in their hands and asked her to visit the collector's office. We know we won't be able to save the house because we can't say anything to the government."

For his part, Bhim has already turned towards God for salvation. "We will see what happens, we are at God's mercy. Wherever he takes us."

TN play Saurashtra, Karnataka face Vidarbha in Ranji quarters

ENS/AGENCIES @ Chennai

TAMIL Nadu needed just seven overs to chase down an easy target and beat Punjab by nine wickets on the final day to top Group C and qualify for the Ranji Trophy quarterfinals here on Monday. With six points from the easy win, TN topped the group with 28 points from seven matches.

Karnataka, who drew with Chandigarh in Hubballi on Monday, also qualified for the quarterfinals as they finished second in the group with 27 points. Tamil Nadu left-arm spinner Sai Kishore (4/80) shone with the ball on Monday as he took four wickets to help his side bowl Punjab out for 231 in 64.2 overs.

Punjab were following-on after they made 274 in their first innings in reply to Tamil Nadu's 435. Punjab began the final day at 180 for 4. Needing just 71 runs for an outright win, Tamil Nadu reached the target in just seven overs for the loss of one wicket.

In Hubbali, Chandigarh ended the final day on 236/5 in their second innings after Karnataka had piled up a massive 563 for 5 declared in their first innings to draw the match.

Andhra advance from Group B

Andhra Pradesh will join 41-time champions Mumbai in the quarterfinals after escaping with a draw against Kerala on the fourth day of their final group match, in Vizianagaram on Monday.

Andhra finished with 26 points from seven games, while Mumbai topped the Group with 37 points from as many matches. Despite conceding three points to Kerala on the basis of first innings lead, the draw was enough for Andhra to make the knockout stage. But Andhra, who conceded a massive 242-run first innings lead, had to survive some anxious moments to earn the draw as Basil Thampi (3/36) and Nedumankuzhy Basil (3/43) produced a fiery spell to reduce their opponents to 185/9. But Shoaib Md Khan (11 not out) and last man Satyanarayana Raju negotiated the last few overs to secure the draw.

Quarterfinals line-up

- Vidarbha vs Karnataka, Nagpur
- Mumbai vs Baroda, Mumbai
- TN vs Saurashtra, Coimbatore
- MP vs Andhra, Indore

All matches begin on Feb 23

SELECT SCORES

Group B: At Vizianagaram: Andhra 272 & 189/9 in 97 ovs (Hebbar 72; Thampi 3/36, Basil 3/43) drew with Kerala 514/7 decl in 161.4 ovs. Group C: At Salem: Tamil Nadu 435 & 71/1 in 7 ovs beat Punjab 274 & 231 in 64.2 ovs (Wadhera 109; Sai Kishore 4/80). At Hubballi: Chandigarh 267 & 236/5 in 80 ovs (Arslan 63, Sidhu 56 n.o; Koushik 2/26) drew with Karnataka 563/5 decl. Group D: At New Delhi: Odisha 440 & 133 in 46 ovs (Mathur 5/26) lost to Delhi 451 & 123/3 in 20.3 ovs.

Delhi end season on high

Left-arm spinner Sumit Mathur took a five-wicket haul on debut as Delhi defeated Odisha by seven wickets on a dramatic day four to end their campaign on a high. Sumit, who took four wickets in the first innings, ended with a match haul of nine as Delhi recorded their third win of the season.

Delhi finished third in the standings behind Madhya Pradesh and Baroda. Had not been for the unexpected loss to Pondicherry in the tournament opener, Delhi could have qualified from Group D. Odisha on the other hand finished seventh in an eight team group.

With both teams not in the race to advance in the competition, the game was headed for a dull draw on day three but the events on the final day made the game more than interesting. Having taking a slender 11-run first innings, Delhi bowled out Odisha for 133 to enforce a result. Set a target of 123, Delhi got home in 20.3 overs.

After China fallout, Messi says no politics over Hong Kong miss

AGENCIES @ Hong Kong

Lionel Messi made another conciliatory gesture to fans in Hong Kong and mainland China on Monday by releasing a video on social media to explain why he didn't play in an exhibition match this month, and insisted that there were no political reasons behind his decision.

Messi disappointed fans in Hong Kong and the city's government after he remained on the bench during a match between Inter Miami and a local team on Feb. 4. Messi and Inter Miami said he had a groin injury, but the grievances have spread to mainland China after he played for 30 minutes in Tokyo against Vissel Kobe days later.

After the Tokyo game, China's state-run newspaper, the Global Times, even published an editorial highlighting a 'theory' without evidence that suggested Messi's actions had 'political motives" and that 'external forces" wished to embarrass Hong Kong. As criticism ramped up on Chinese social media, the sports bureau in Hangzhou canceled next month's friendly between Nigeria and World Cup champion Argentina, captained by Messi, in China for 'the reasons known to all." In a two-minute video posted on Chinese social media platform Weibo on Monday, Messi said he wanted to set the record straight.

"I've heard people say that I didn't want to play (in Hong Kong) for political reasons and many other reasons that are totally untrue,' Messi said in Spanish in a video with Chinese and English subtitles. 'Had that been the case, I wouldn't have even traveled to Japan or visited China as many times as I have." Messi said he didn't play because he had an inflamed adductor that had become worse after playing another friendly in Saudi Arabia. A day before the Hong Kong match, Messi said, he also tried to play in front of the fans that came to watch Inter Miami's training session. "I did all I could,' he said. 'But I really couldn't play." He said he played in Japan because his condition had improved by then.

Three years after his near-fatal crash at the Dakar Rally, Bengaluru-based enduro motorcycle racer CS Santosh reflects on his unfinished business with Dakar, the road to recovery and what he's aiming for next

DESERT PHOENIX

DESE GOWDA

A vast expanse of sand as far as the eye can see, and a silence that is only shattered by occasional sounds of motorcycles tearing across the dunes. The Dakar Rally isn't merely a race; it's a raw test of survival in the most unforgiving of places. Riders, one with their machines striving to conquer the brutal yet awe-inspiring desert. Motion is their mantra. Stillness is disaster.

Just a few minutes before two fellow Dakar competitors found Bengaluru-based CS Santosh lying unconscious – with no pulse or heartbeat and his motorcycle on its side a few metres away – he had struck a rock, camouflaged by the sand, at high speed. It was stage four of the 2021 Dakar Rally. The then 37-year-old sustained head trauma and a dislocated right shoulder and was kept in a medically induced coma in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, before being flown back to Bengaluru.

Having become the first Indian to finish the Dakar in 2015, 2021 was supposed to be a highlight of the 40-year-old's career. "It was shaping up to be my best year yet. I'd been training hard, for years, putting in everything I needed to perform at my best. Finally, all that hard work paid off, and I felt ready to hit my goal of being in the top 20 in my field. But, as life would have it, things didn't go as planned," reflects Santosh, who, having been on a road to recovery for the past three years, feels he is ready to take on the gruelling race once again. "The Dakar Rally was more than just a race for me; it was a way to express myself. People have many different ways to express themselves, I find my true expression on a motorcycle. That's the core reason I'm drawn back to Dakar. Returning to Dakar is not just about the race; it's about fulfilling a personal vision and continuing a journey that's deeply meaningful to me. My journey was interrupted in 2021, and my main focus now is to complete it," he says.

> ...I find my true expression on a motorcycle. Returning to Dakar is not just about the race; it's about fulfilling a personal vision
>
> – CS Santosh, enduro motorcycle racer

Meanwhile, the accident in 2021 did more than just sideline Santosh from the tracks, stripping him of several years of memories. "The thing is that I was not a human being after the crash. A lot of things which make us human, things we take for granted, like balance or the body's natural chemical processes, became obstacles I had to overcome," he shares, adding, "I remember 2015, my first Dakar; I remember that we lost Paulo [Gonçalves in 2020], one of my teammates and an incredible human being. I also remember a lot of memories from the past, but nothing from the last four-five years. Nothing. I don't remember the crash, I don't even remember three or four Dakar(s)."

An alumni of St Joseph's Boys High School, Santosh's love for motorcycling blossomed during his college days. "Even as a student, I had a thirst for adventure. Back then, I was inspired by what I saw on the Discovery Channel. I aspired to work with the World Wildlife Fund and also harboured ambitions of becoming an airline pilot. Despite these varied interests, adventure was always at the core of what I wanted. However, I never fully realised these potentials until I found a motorcycle in college. That's when I discovered that my true calling was the adventure that motorcycling offered. It wasn't about winning or being on the podium; it was about the thrill of the ride," he shares.

As he prepares for his return to Dakar in 2025, Santosh reflects on the importance of completing his journey. "This completion is my top priority at the moment," he asserts. "There's something unspoken, something I still need to share, and once I've done that, I can move on to the next chapter of my life."

Aindrita Ray, Harshika Poonacha inaugurate new restaurant

Nando's, the South African restaurant chain, known for its peri-peri chicken, opened its doors in Phoenix Mall of Asia on February 15. This new restaurant, which is the third for Nando's in this bustling city, was inaugurated by actors Aindrita Ray and Harshika Poonacha. "We are excited to introduce our world-renowned peri-peri chicken to the residents of North Bengaluru. Although the authentic flavours of our chicken were born in South Africa, we have crafted them to cater to the taste buds of Indian spice lovers," said Sameer Bhasin, CEO of Nando's India. The restaurant is open from Monday to Sunday, from 11.30am to 11.30pm.

Entrepreneur-musician Akshai Sarin has given a musical touch to the holiday experience onboard an 18-deck tall Royal Caribbean Cruises' Spectrum of the Seas

Uncharted Waters

POOJA DAS

WHEN one thinks of a musical instrument serenading harmonious notes, one would not even in their wildest imagination think of an 18-deck tall cruise ship. But making this unimaginable feat possible is musician Akshai Sarin who has successfully managed to evoke waves of sound from the Royal Carribean Cruise's Spectrum of the Seas. "The original plan was to convert a five-star hotel into an instrument for their 10th anniversary. But then my parents told me about how they had gone on a cruise and they were telling me the size and the scale of the cruise ship. So I thought that's an interesting idea. Why not do something even bigger than a hotel? I approached the CEO of Royal Caribbean Cruise in Singapore with the idea and it obviously took some time to get them to understand what I wanted to do because it's kind of a strange concept but then they liked the idea and said they would be happy to do this," says Sarin.

The ship, which is open to passengers with its musical prowess, took nearly two years to complete. "There are a lot of variables because it's something that's never been done before. So the sea conditions, the vibration of the ship's engine, all of that had to be decked out," says Sarin, who is also the creator of Blessdbuy, a social enterprise in the city. The backbone of this project is an array of vibration sensors, each tailored for different surfaces. "The vibration sensors can be attached to any object and then the next step is connecting it to a series of hardware and then using software to train the sensors to pick up different positi, gestures, and locations. So the vibrations are translated into data and the data is then translated into sound," explains Sarin.

At the heart of all of Sarin's work is the concept of Sonokinesis which is a project intersecting art, music, and technology and revolves around transforming everyday objects into dynamic, playable musical instruments. The musician's fascination with technology and music dates back to his teenage years. "As a teenager, I used to open up all my walkmans and resolder the wires. I started making my own music instruments as a kid. Ten years ago, I was inspired by the movie Minority Report and worked with this Portuguese company to create a transparent touch screen with which I could play instruments," shares Sarin, adding, "People today are so easily distracted because there are so many different things. So, I envision using that to make things come alive in a different way.

As the heat rises in the city, so does the glam quotient with large silver coin tops

Silver that sizzles

MONIKA MONALISA

WHEN model Sakshi Gupta, a regular in the music festival circuit, was planning her outfit for the recently-concluded Echoes of Earth festival in Goa, she wanted a brand new look that she could later repeat with a twist. She stumbled upon an outfit that had a silver coins theme and Gupta knew that was the one. "This piece immediately caught my eye, and I could visualise the perfect ensemble for an upcoming party or concert," says Gupta, adding, "This top isn't just a one-off piece; its versatility makes it a staple in my wardrobe and it can be styled in numerous ways for different occasions. For an urban night out, it can be layered over a basic white top, mirroring the city's luminescence. At beach parties, pairing it with a bikini adds a fun and flirty twist."

The silver coin outfit trend has been making waves in the city after Bengaluru girl Deepika Padukone was seen in one of the song Ishq Jaisa Kuch in her latest movie Fighter. Amruta Singh, a college student, says, "Since I am a huge fan of Deepika Padukone, I picked the top after I saw her wearing it. I was also going for a beach party, and the look fit into that really well," says Singh.

Having pieces like this is tricky because these are most likely categorised as single-wear looks. But not for socialite Ila Dorairaj Naidu, who loves a good disco look and easily styled her silver-foiled midi-dress with silver coin work, in two looks for two different evening events. "For one of the events, I went all-out disco with silver stilettos and Rabanne earrings. For the second look, I paired it with a designer hot pink pleated poncho top and completed the look with an heirloom pearl and diamond necklace," explains Naidu.

HR professional Shalini Parupudi's way of styling this coin top should be in your lookbook if you are thinking of going to a glam evening. "I am a firm believer in restyling and reusing, so whenever I pick anything, I try to restyle it in many ways. While the silver coin top is quite popular and mostly styled in the Western way, I tried to team it with a saree. It goes well for a cocktail evening. It looks as stylish in the ethnic attire as well," says Parupudi.

QUICK FIX

BUTTER MURUKKU

Contributed by Ajitha, Kozhikode

INGREDIENTS

- Rice flour: 3 cups
- Sesame seeds: 2 tbsp
- Salt: 1 tsp
- Water for kneading
- Urad dal flour: 3/4 cup
- Asafoetida: a pinch
- Softened butter: 3 tbsp
- Oil for frying

METHOD

- In a large bowl, combine rice flour, urad dal flour, sesame seeds, asafoetida, and salt. Mix thoroughly to ensure even distribution.
- Add softened butter and mix well. Crumble and blend until the flour is moist.
- Gradually add water while kneading the dough. Until you achieve a smooth and soft dough, add water as needed.
- Attach the star mould to the murukku maker. Grease the murukku maker with oil to prevent the dough from sticking.
- Shape the dough in a cylindrical form and place it inside the murukku maker.
- Secure the lid and keep pressing the dough through the mould into hot oil, maintain a medium flame.
- Flip the murukku and fry until they become crispy on both sides.
- Remove excess oil by draining the murukku on a paper towel.
- Allow the murukku to cool before enjoying. It can be stored in an airtight container for up to two weeks.

FIT BIT

UTTANA MANIBANDHA UTKATASANA

(INTENSE WRIST STRETCH FIERCE POSE)

The pose is also known as Intense Wrist Stretch Chair Pose. This is a preparatory pose for Khanjanasana. It is a captivating asana that draws inspiration from the movements of wagtail bird. Approach the asana with patience and listen to your body's limits.

STEPS

- Begin in a standing position with the feet hip-width apart in Tadasana (Mountain Pose).
- Inhale deeply and as you exhale, bend forward, keeping your back straight.
- Bend the knees and place your palms on the floor, shoulder-width apart, keep the fingertips facing the toes.
- Shift the bodyweight onto the hands. Making sure that your elbows are straight.
- Try to keep your spine straight and parallel to the floor, looking in front of you.
- Hold the pose for 30 to 90 seconds.
- At this stage, slowly release both your hands.
- Finally, come back to the original pose of Tadasana and relax.

BENEFITS

- Targets the legs, particularly the quadriceps and hamstrings, building strength and stability in these muscle groups.
- Opens up the hips, promoting better mobility.
- Improves posture and alignment.
- Focal point or Drishti is Ajna (third eye) Chakra, which is located between the eyebrows.
- Increases blood circulation the hands.
- Relieves pain in the shoulders, elbow and upper back.
- Beneficial to people suffering or recovering from tendonitis. Strengthens the wrist joints.
- Cures stiffness of the knees.

LIMITATIONS

You must engage your triceps muscles rather than your elbow joints.

People suffering from wrist injuries like fractures, avoid jerky movements.

SURVIVING THE 'CIRCUS' ON THE ROADS OF NAMMA BENGALURU

YEARS ago, when I was dabbling with the basic concepts of driving in what was then Bombay (now Mumbai), my father had told me, "If you learn how to drive safely in Bombay, you can drive in any city in the world." It was certainly not a compliment for Bombay. That was 1984 (nothing to do with George Orwell). Today, the scene has changed, with the 'honours' being taken over by Namma Bengaluru. And we have a full-blown circus on the city roads – complete with 'giraffes', 'elephants', 'bears', 'lions' and 'tigers', 'simians' of all varieties... and, of course, how can you forget... the 'clowns' in control of all of them, and the 'trapeze artistes'! It's nothing less than a circus... a circus without a tent!

You just have to find a safe spot (that is a major challenge in itself, though) to spend a few minutes to observe the circus unfolding, that too for free (another freebie!!). You will be treated to all kinds of acrobatics – vertical (wheelies and pillions and riders standing on their pedals as they ride, among others) and horizontal (cars, bikes and vehicles of all shapes and sizes swerving left and right to beat the others and get ahead of the rest).

You may be stumped while wondering what those neatly-laid out lines on the roads are for. In normal traffic and motoring parlance, they are called lanes for the motorists to drive or ride within. They are for safety. But who cares? It appears that most motorists in Bengaluru assume those lines to have been drawn for aesthetic purposes, some kind of rangoli.

Lanes apart, traffic signals, junctions, intersections, one-ways, signage for instructions for motorists or footpaths (mostly non-existent), hold no meaning for the average Bengaluru motorist. They take the vehicles to anywhere that the wheels can take them. And the circus is growing.

Bengaluru has overtaken the national capital to host the largest number of private vehicles in any Indian city. As per data of December 31, 2023, there are 1,14,28,331 vehicles of all categories in Bengaluru for a human population of 1,40,08,262 – which is close to one vehicle per head. That's a mind-boggling cram! And it is not close to slowing down. In just one decade, Bengaluru's vehicle population has doubled from 55.26 lakh to 1.14 crore.

Normally, the vehicle population itself is not a problem if motorists know how to control their vehicles in a disciplined manner. But that does not happen in Bengaluru. Driving is considered an activity synonymous with speed and reaching a destination at the earliest. Safety of self and others comes last, if at all it figures on the mental radars of the motorists.

The shockingly rapid increase in vehicle population compounded by the lack of discipline on the roads is what has evolved the once-serene Bengaluru traffic (decades ago, that was) into what can be described as a 'circus' on the city roads – a deadly circus that claims lives every day.

Therefore, it's not surprising that on long weekends, like the one which started with the Republic Day last week, Bengalureans almost crawled over each other like crabs to get away from the city, only to end up creating congestion elsewhere – they took the circus away from the citytemporarily.

While driving or riding these days, my father's words often echo inside my head: "In life, always remember to be humble and modest, except while driving (or riding). While driving (or riding), always remember to remind yourself that you are the only wise and responsible motorist, and all the others are fools! Always anticipate other's faults to avoid accidents!"

Now, that's especially applicable to driving in Bengaluru to survive the city's traffic day after day....

LOVEOLOGY
Mahesh Natarajan

(The author is a counsellor with InnerSight)

Is there such a thing as perfection in a relationship?

DO you need to love perfectly? Is there such a thing as perfection in a relationship? Imagine for a moment you are having a great time with a lover, and then as you are cuddling, your lover says, "Do you know what is needed to make this moment right here right now the most perfect moment ever?" At that moment, being together as you are, what thoughts would run through your mind hearing such a thing? Would you look at yourself and think maybe I should be working on my abs or my arms, and bringing up your own insecurities to the forefront, or would you look at the context of where you are and think maybe the lights should be dimmer and get annoyed at the rajnigandha, or wish the music was Usha Uthup singing instead? Would you immediately know what would have been better?

Perfection is the enemy of good. Voltaire apparently said that first, but it has become common wisdom now.

Very often, we do not get to experience the joy and beauty of what is good because we cannot relax into it, our inner critic being as constantly activated as they are, we cannot let ourselves enjoy the moment for what it presents, and instead dismiss it for not being what a search for perfection would demand of it. We fear failure so much. It is not a single failure that scares us thought, is it? If we can bear looking a little more deeply, it is what failures would mean about us – we fear that we might be inadequate and incompetent. So much so that we tell ourselves that we cannot relax and coast along for even a moment lest we let ourselves get drawn into a whirlpool of mediocrity that we will be self-loathing blobs.

Few places bring up that kind of insecurity in the way love and relationships can do for us. When we are with another person, we need so much for the lover to say, "Nothing at all. You are perfect, I am, and everything is just right this moment when we are here with each other." Anything short of that as a response to the question we asked might feel short and trigger insecurities we didn't know we even had.

The point is not about whether you get the correct answer to the question, "Do you know what will make this moment perfect?", but to check why we even have to think or ask such a question. If you can just be annoyed at the lover for even asking such a stupid question, taking away from your enjoyment of the moment for whatever it is, instead of actually thinking about what needs to be better, kudos to you.

Love is a beautiful accident. It is not a given. There is no assurance that we will love someone or be loved. Love is like a wildflower blooming through a crack in the concrete in a busy city street. It is a miracle it even exists. Can we let ourselves love, and enjoy how good it is, without seeking perfection?

Storytelling session for children

KoKo Hour is an interactive storytelling session is inspired by KoKo Wooferjee, a globe-trotting dog from Bengaluru, known for her captivating tales and explorations. Designed for children aged 5 to 10, KoKo Hour is a blend of stories that nurture creativity, resilience, and critical thinking. During this KoKo Hour, the kids listen to KoKo's narration and make 'Beads of Connection', the theme of the session. They walk away with their own creation and a return gift from KoKo. The session will be happening at Atta Galata on February 24.

New play by Prakash Belawadi to be staged

A new play titled Turnaround, based on a short story by Sriram Iyer, adapted and directed by Prakash Belawadi is being performed by the group Centre for Film and Drama, at Bangalore International Centre on Feb 21. Set in the white-collar corporate world, the play traverses the thought processes and actions of a well-intended executive who expects to be dealt with fairly and objectively even if he refuses to bow down to the most senior leadership of the company. The organisation's response is as canny as it is funny - and the play shines the spotlight on the orchestrated actions of leaders to drive to an outcome; underscoring the utterly duplicitous conduct in so-called value-driven large corporates.

Shivarajkumar

'MY CURRENT FOCUS IS ON ENTERTAINING THE AUDIENCE AND CONNECTING WITH MY CHARACTERS'

...says Century Star Shivarajkumar as he reflects on his illustrious 38-year journey in the film industry. He also talks about carving his own identity coming from a star family

A SHARADHAA

With 38 illustrious years in cinema, Shivarajkumar, now aged 62, continues to exude unwavering energy. Being a star that every director aspires to helm is a testament to his remarkable career as a performer. Hailing from the Rajkumar family, he made his debut with Anand in 1986, and since then, has carved his own path with his approximatley 130 films, earning titles like the Hattrick Hero, Century Star, and Karunada Chakravarthy.

For Shivanna, the real thrill lies in the camaraderie of the set, adorned in grease paint, basking in the glow of arc lights, and skillfully bringing out the nuances of his characters. As he resumes shooting for his 128th film, Bhairathi Ranagal, Shivaana, in a candid conversation, shares, "There's a fire within me, not just as an actor but in everything I do. Icons like Rajkumar, Rajinikanth, Mohanlal, Amitabh Bachchan, and Kamal Haasan possess lasting charisma. I'm simply striving to give my best."

The actor attributes his perpetual enthusiasm to his mischievous and playful nature since childhood. Despite occasional reminders from loved ones to 'act his age,' he admits to always striving to maintain his excitement. "Being adored by fans for your energy is a constant motivation. I don't want to disappoint them. I prefer to keep the energy high on and off-screen, especially when I have them around me. Some might think I am overdoing it. However, after 38 years in the industry, I don't feel the need to overdo things to attract attention. That's just who I am. No one can change my nature. I am straightforward and true towards whatever I do," he asserts.

Never once has Shivanna considered quitting the industry. "Being an actor is a rare opportunity, and getting to work on a host of films doesn't come easily. So it's better to embrace it than to regret it later. The thought of giving up never crosses my mind," he says.

Balancing the roles that feed the performer in him while maintaining star value throughout his career, Shivanna has successfully transitioned from being the son of a legend to carving his own identity. "My father was my first inspiration, following him, I admire Kamal Hassan and Amitabh Bachchan. I draw inspiration from them, but I've never strived to imitate them. I have maintained my own identity in acting always. Since my first film, I've aimed to offer diverse roles that resonate with audiences. As you see, I've avoided repeating genres excessively. While some say I excel in gangster roles, I ensure they're never repetitive. Similarly, I've portrayed family sentiments and brother-sister dynamics without repetition. Even in commercially successful films, I've avoided stereotypes," he explains.

Ask him at any point, he feels the pressure of being a legend's son, and Shivanna immediately replies,"Yes, it's there, in every aspect, to uphold the family name. Besides, there's a necessary discipline and responsibility I've maintained, particularly when dealing with any issues."

Currently, the actor, who is awaiting the release of Karataka Damanaka, is juggling between multiple projects, Shivanna anticipates Bhairathi Ranagal and 45 to be unique additions to his career. "I didn't anticipate such finesse coming from composer-turned-director Arjun Janya in 45. Honestly, he will stand out as a filmmaker in the industry. Narathan's Bhairathi Ranagal is almost seventy percent done and we are hoping to release it in August," he reveals.

Responding to fans' desire to see him in an underworld role akin to his classic cult film Om, Shivanna asserts, "When I did Om, I was 33 years old. Now, after 28 years, I should be in a different phase. The commanding gaze in my eyes remains, but the portrayal should evolve. Right now, I aim to entertain people and deeply connect with my characters. Particularly, the character in Inspector Vikram, which I enjoyed portraying, 34 years ago, a similar essence will be retained in IV Returns."

Reflecting on his experience working in multiple languages, especially after the success of Jailer, Shivanna acknowledges the expectations that come with it. "When it comes to working in other language films, I have to carefully consider which roles will fit me best," he concludes.

Riteish to direct and star in bilingual film Raja Shivaji

CE FEATURES

Riteish Deshmukh took to Instagram on Monday to announce his next film as a director and actor, titled Raja Shivaji. Riteish will be essaying the role of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj in the biopic based on the life of the warrior king and will also direct the movie. The film will release simultaneously in Marathi and Hindi and will mark his second directorial venture after the Marathi film Ved (2022).

Riteish shared a poster of the film where his silhouette is shown. He wrote a long caption and praised Shivaji. "Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj is not a mere historical figure; he is an emotion, a timeless saga of valor, and a beacon of hope that has illuminated hearts for over three and a half centuries."

He added, "Our deepest aspiration has always been to immortalize his awe-inspiring journey on the grand canvas of cinema—a journey of epic proportions, depicting the rise of a boy who defied the invincible, sparking the flames of Swarajya."

Kappu Bilupina Naduve marks the directorial debut of Vasanth Vishnu

CE FEATURES

Had things gone well for Vasanth Vishnu, his debut film Akhaada, also featuring Tamil actor Vijay Sethupathi as the antagonist, would have been his debut release, but unfortunately, it is still to hit the theaters. The actor then began his acting journey with Thandavaa and also appeared in a Tulu film titled Pavithra, which reportedly ran for one year. Now, Vasanth Vishnu is testing the waters in filmmaking with Kappu Bilupina Naduve. The title, which translates to Between black and white, is said to be a horror thriller.

According to the debutant, the film delves into the interplay between darkness and light, the journey between the human and paranormal realms, and the battle between light and darkness. "Somewhere, black and white encompasses all the colors and relates to everyone's life, although perspectives may vary from person to person. This film will connect with all these aspects," he explains.

Incidentally, Kappu Bilupina Naduve is based on true events and this story sheds light on the lack of infrastructure in a certain village where several ominous incidents have taken place on a road connecting the village to the outside world. The villagers, deeply entrenched in their superstitions, are reluctant to address the issue. "I explore how social influences, such as YouTubers, navigate to this village and its roads in Kappu Bilupina Naduve," says the director on the sidelines of the film's release on February 23. The actor-turned-filmmaker, prior to the release met Vijay Sethupathi, who personally wished him success for his new venture.

Apart from directing, Vasanth Vishnu plays the lead role in Kappu Bilupina Naduve. With Vidyashree Gowda playing the female lead, the film has Sharath Lohitashwa, Biradar, Comedy Time Harish, and Naveen Raghunath playing pivotal characters.

Produced by Dharmendra DS under Golden Shine Productions, the film has music by AK Rishal Sai and cinematography by Praveen Shetty.

Jugalbandi gets a release date

CE FEATURES

Jugalbandi the upcoming film by Divakar Dimdima is set to release on March 1. The director has taken multiple responsibilities for the film, serving as the story, screenplay, and dialogue writer. It is produced under his own banner and distributed by Visica Films.

The film features three main plots, focusing on a mother, a couple, and a visually-impaired person, respectively. All of them will focus on their hunt for finance.

"The central theme of the film revolves around the pursuit of money, a concept not found in religious texts like the Bible, Bhagavad Gita, or Quran. Jugalbandi is a suspense thriller, which revolves around the three parallel plots," says the director.

Jugalbandi has Pradyotan as the composer and consists of an ensemble cast Archana Kottige, Ashwin Rao, Santosh Ashray, and Yash Shetty in leading roles, supported by Prakash Belavadi, Chandra Prabha GJ, Ranjan, and Yuktalu Sush.

A passable rural entertainer

MANDYA HAIDA
Director: Shrikanth Pandavapura
Cast: Abhay Chandrashekar Bhumika Mahesh, and Bala Rajawadi

A SHARADHAA

Mandya Haida, which emerged amidst the myriad Kannada releases this week. Here, we don't just encounter a narrative of friendship; the story also introduces a tapestry of romance. Director Shrikanth Pandavapura, while occasionally straying from the conventional path, ultimately yields to the demands of commercial aspects, catering to the masses with flair.

Stepping into the bustling village setting where love, friendship, and surprising turns steal the spotlight, we meet Shiva (Abhay Chandrashekar) and his faithful companions. They eagerly extend a helping hand, whether aiding in romantic escapades or avoiding parental scrutiny. However, amidst this tight-knit camaraderie, a puzzling query arises - why does Shiva, alongside his trusted circle, opt for an unexpected adventure with Gowda's daughter?

Shiva strikes up a friendship with the lovely Priya (Bhumika Mahesh), who admires him for his altruism rather than his reputation as a love disruptor. When Priya seeks Shiva's assistance in supporting her friend's romantic endeavors, he agrees, yet the outcome takes an unexpected twist.

Later, misunderstandings arise as Shiva's friends mistake his absence for romantic entanglement with Priya. Their two-day absence from the village triggers various complications, leading Priya's father (Bala Rajawadi) to express unwavering confidence in his daughter's actions. Despite Priya gaining permission to express her love to Shiva, he prioritizes friendship over romance.

RATING 2.5/5

As Priya proudly shares this revelation with Shiva's once misguided friends, the narrative takes a peculiar turn, diverging from typical commercial tropes. Friendship and love hold significant sway in director Shrikanth Pandavapura Mandya Haida. While the initial half delights with its comical moments and catchy songs, the latter half delves into deeper themes, driving the story with newfound intensity, and the director incorporates poignant messages for lovers, parents, and friends, enhancing the film's impact.

Abhay Chandrasekhar shines in dance, action, and emotional scenes in his sophomore outing, while Bhumika Mahesh shows promise with her dancing and acting prowess. Bala Rajawadi delivers a flawless performance as a father figure, and newcomer Vishnu holds his own place as the antagonist, he is supported by a whole host of supporting cast members including Gajendra, Darshan Surya, Sukhesh, and Chidambar.

Manu Jagadish Gowda's cinematography captures the rustic charm of Mandya, and coupled with Surendranath's tunes and Thriller Manju's action sequences, the film is brimming with emotion, action, and heartwarming moments. The grass is not always greener on the other side, but if you have a discerning eye, you'll find beauty even amidst imperfections. Such is the case with Mandya Haida, which is a passable film for those in the mood for a dose of village love and camaraderie.
